Single Blessedness.

A HUSBAND KEEPING HOUSE.

My wife has gone away for the Summer, and left me in full charge of the house. I like it; I haven't had such a run of liberty since we were married. I hope she's having a good time, for I can now exercise my right as the head of the family. Can't do it when she's home; she'll not stand it. She has rules, and makes every body about her toe the mark. But I've got her now, and am having things my own way.

This morning I came home early. It was two A. M. I'd been to the club, and got caught in the rain. For half an hour I couldn't find the key hole, which must have got mislaid. I felt for it everywhere, and even got down into the yard and examined every brick, but could not find it. I was in the act of calling one of my neighbors, and asking him who had carried off my front door, when I happened to find it and got into the house.

In the dark I kicked over a spittoon, but luckily didn't get any of the tobacco juice on my boots. I hung my overcoat and umbrella on a prong of the chandelier, let them drip on the parlor carpet, went up stairs and turned in with my boots on. I thought it wasn't worth while to pull them off, as I would have to get up in eight or ten hours anyhow. If my wife had been at home she'd have had me looking an hour for the boot-jack, and I would have lost that amount of rest, which my system so much needed. Besides, she'd have made me give a full account of myself, which I don't like to do. I never did believe in praising myself. It's better to let others speak of one's virtues. I can now wear a shirt a week, and its nobody's business. I don't see how I ever did get along with that woman. The idea of having to put on a clean shirt, black my boots, and brush up my clothes every morning, is simply ridiculous. It is a miracle to me how I ever did it and attend to my other affairs.

I now read the morning paper without being forced to see an impatient woman standing with her dress in one hand, looking very miserable, and telling me she is going down town and wants that paper. Any one, to look at the house now, would know there's no woman about, everything is so quiet and comfortable and handy. If I want to do a little figuring I don't have to hunt up a pencil, or pen and ink, but just sit down to one of the tables and do it with my finger and there's nobody to be eternally wielding a dusting brush around my head, and telling me to get out of the way until the house is cleaned up.

These are considerations that every married man should ponder over. But when we do ponder and resolve, what good does it do? That's the question that is now agitating the American people. What good does it do? Not a bit. If these women can't have everything their own way, they swoon off into hysterics. As a consequence, we have to pay a fifty dollar doctor's bill, and stay in the house all day, fanning them, and promising in the end that "we may be happy yet," before they show any disposition to compromise. Our wives are petted too much. And this reminds me that mine won't yield to any other treatment. I undertook to prescribe a more stringent remedy for her one day, but it threw her into a fit more like jim-jams than anything I know of. She broke every plate in the house over my head, and then I had to kiss her before she would promise not to do that again. That's what makes me say she is set in her ways.

There, too, are the piano and guitar, which she kept going from morning until midnight, filling the whole neighborhood with the discordant sounds which she called music. Both are as mute as the bird-cage which was vacated last week by a strategetic movement of the cat.

The two hundred pots of flowers which she left me to cultivate I don't think will produce much of a crop. They're nearly all ripe now, and there's no sign of a flower yet. I have watered them twice since she left, but it did no good. I reckon they miss her, and are pining away because she ain't here. In this respect they do not resemble me to any alarming extent

Our kitchen never looked better. The stove and pipe have assumed a beautiful red tint, and the pots are bringing forth a fine crop of white looking vegetable mold which I haven't learned the name of, but she'll know it when she comes. The dishes don't look quite as bright and clean as they might, but the flies are bad this year, and if I were to wash them every two weeks they wouldn't present a respectable appearance.

Notice to the editor.—Please suppress that article I sent you about my "Spell of Single Blessedness." The old woman has got back.

A New Scientific College.

A new institution, somewhat on the plan of the Stevens Institute, Hoboken, N. J., is soon to be built at Birmingham, Eng., founded on the generous endowments of Sir Josiah Mason. The institution is to be called "Josiah Mason's College" or "Josiah Mason's College for the Study of Practical Science." Regular systematic instruction is to be given in mathematics, abstract and applied physics, both mathematical and experimental; chemistry, theoretical, practical and applied; the natural sciences, especially geology and mineralogy, with their application to mines and metallurgy; botany and zoology, with special application to manufactures; and physiology, with special reference to the laws of health. The English, French and German languages will also be taught. The Trustees have power to include mechanics and architecture and all other subjects necessary to carry out the objects of the founder. Mere literary education and instruction are excluded, as well as all teaching of theology and subjects purely theological. No principal, professor, teacher, or other officer of the college is ever to be called upon to make any "declaration as to or submit to any test whatever of his religious or theological opinion." Nor are these in any wise to be considered either as qualifications or disqualification for holding any office; fitness to give the instruction required being the sole and only test. Provision is also made for giving lectures and opening classes for popular or unsystematic instruction, at which the attendance shall be open to all persons. "without distinction of age, class, creed, race, or sex." The founder's object being to promote the prosperity of manufactures and industry. The college will be open to qualified persons of all classes, who have to rely on science, art, or manufactures for a livelihood, "especially the more intelligent youth of the middle class." Provision is also made, when the funds permit it, to provide instruction for females as well as males.

"No. 17 Arlington St., London, England.
Jan. 6, 1870.

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY,
"U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopaedia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopaedia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopaedia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.
CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.
JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.

MY DEAR SIR: I have used the 'New American Cyclopaedia' since the first volume came into existence, and deem it the best work of the kind in print. Yours, &c., HORACE GREELEY."

"North Shore, S. I., N. Y., Oct. 19, 1869.

Appletons' Cyclopaedia is unquestionably the best popular manual of general reference for an American. GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

"Washington, Nov. 12, 1869.

DEAR SIR: I quite agree with Mr. Curtis, that the 'New American Cyclopaedia' is 'the best manual of general reference for an American.' The annual continuations are also of great value.

Single Blessedness.

A HUSBAND KEEPING HOUSE.

My wife has gone away for the Summer, and left me in full charge of the house. I like it; I haven't had such a run of liberty since we were married. I hope she's having a good time, for I can now exercise my right as the head of the family. Can't do it when she's home; she'll not stand it. She has rules, and makes every body about her toe the mark. But I've got her now, and am having things my own way.

This morning I came home early. It was two A. M. I'd been to the club, and got caught in the rain. For half an hour I couldn't find the key hole, which must have got mislaid. I felt for it everywhere, and even got down into the yard and examined every brick, but could not find it. I was in the act of calling one of my neighbors, and asking him who had carried off my front door, when I happened to find it and got into the house.

In the dark I kicked over a spittoon, but luckily didn't get any of the tobacco juice on my boots. I hung my overcoat and umbrella on a prong of the chandelier, let them drip on the parlor carpet, went up stairs and turned in with my boots on. I thought it wasn't worth while to pull them off, as I would have to get up in eight or ten hours anyhow. If my wife had been at home she'd have had me looking an hour for the boot-jack, and I would have lost that amount of rest, which my system so much needed. Besides, she'd have made me give a full account of myself, which I don't like to do. I never did believe in praising myself. It's better to let others speak of one's virtues. I can now wear a shirt a week, and its nobody's business. I don't see how I ever did get along with that woman. The idea of having to put on a clean shirt, black my boots, and brush up my clothes every morning, is simply ridiculous. It is a miracle to me how I ever did it and attend to my other affairs.

I now read the morning paper without being forced to see an impatient woman standing with her dress in one hand, looking very miserable, and telling me she is going down town and wants that paper. Any one, to look at the house now, would know there's no woman about, everything is so quiet and comfortable and handy. If I want to do a little figuring I don't have to hunt up a pencil, or pen and ink, but just sit down to one of the tables and do it with my finger and there's nobody to be eternally wielding a dusting brush around my head, and telling me to get out of the way until the house is cleaned up.

These are considerations that every married man should ponder over. But when we do ponder and resolve, what good does it do? That's the question that is now agitating the American people. What good does it do? Not a bit. If these women can't have everything their own way, they swoon off into hysterics. As a consequence, we have to pay a fifty dollar doctor's bill, and stay in the house all day, fanning them, and promising in the end that "we may be happy yet," before they show any disposition to compromise. Our wives are petted too much. And this reminds me that mine won't yield to any other treatment. I undertook to prescribe a more stringent remedy for her one day, but it threw her into a fit more like jim-jams than anything I know of. She broke every plate in the house over my head, and then I had to kiss her before she would promise not to do that again. That's what makes me say she is set in her ways.

There, too, are the piano and guitar, which she kept going from morning until midnight, filling the whole neighborhood with the discordant sounds which she called music. Both are as mute as the bird-cage which was vacated last week by a strategetic movement of the cat.

The two hundred pots of flowers which she left me to cultivate I don't think will produce much of a crop. They're nearly all ripe now, and there's no sign of a flower yet. I have watered them twice since she left, but it did no good. I reckon they miss her, and are pining away because she ain't here. In this respect they do not resemble me to any alarming extent

Our kitchen never looked better. The stove and pipe have assumed a beautiful red tint, and the pots are bringing forth a fine crop of white looking vegetable mold which I haven't learned the name of, but she'll know it when she comes. The dishes don't look quite as bright and clean as they might, but the flies are bad this year, and if I were to wash them every two weeks they wouldn't present a respectable appearance.

Notice to the editor.—Please suppress that article I sent you about my "Spell of Single Blessedness." The old woman has got back.

A New Scientific College.

A new instituion, somewhat on the plan of the Stevens Institute, Hoboken, N. J., is soon to be built at Birmingham, Eng., founded on the generous endowments of Sir Josiah Mason. The institution is to be called "Josiah Mason's College" or "Josiah Mason's College for the Study of Practical Science." Regular systematic instruction is to be given in mathematics, abstract and applied physics, both mathematical and experimental; chemistry, theoretical, practical and applied; the natural sciences, especially geology and mineralogy, with their application to mines and matallurgy; botany and zoology, with special application to manufactures; and physiology, with special reference to the laws of health. The English, French and German languages will also be taught. The Trustees have power to include mechanics and architecture and all other subjects necessary to carry out the objects of the founder. Mere literary education and instruction are excluded, as well as all teaching of theology and subjects purely theological. No principal, professor, teacher, or other officer of the college is ever to be called upon to make any "declaration as to or submit to any test whatever of his religious or theological opinion." Nor are these in any wise to be considered either as qualifications or disqualification for holding any office; fitness to give the instruction required being the sole and only test. Provision is also made for giving lectures and opening classes for popular or unsystematic instruction, at which the attendance shall be open to all persons. "without distinction of age, class, creed, race, or sex." The founder's object being to promote the prosperity of manufactures and industry. The college will be open to qualified persons of all classes, who have to rely on science, art, or manufactures for a livelihood, "especially the more intelligent youth of the middle class." Provision is also made, when the funds permit it, to provide instruction for females as well as males.

"No. 17 Arlington St., London, England.
Jan. 6, 1870.

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPŒDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY,
"U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopaedia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopaedia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopaedia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.
CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.
JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.

MY DEAR SIR: I have used the 'New American Cyclopaedia' since the first volume came into existence, and deem it the best work of the kind in print. Yours, &c., HORACE GREELEY."

Appletons' Cyclopaedia is unquestionably the best popular manual of general reference for an American. GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

"Washington, Nov. 12, 1869.

DEAR SIR: I quite agree with Mr. Curtis, that the 'New American Cyclopaedia' is 'the best manual of general reference for an American.' The annual continuations are also of great value.

Single Blessedness.

A HUSBAND KEEPING HOUSE.

My wife has gone away for the Summer, and left me in full charge of the house. I like it; I haven't had such a run of liberty since we were married. I hope she's having a good time, for I can now exercise my right as the head of the family. Can't do it when she's home; she'll not stand it. She has rules, and makes every body about her toe the mark. But I've got her now, and am having things my own way.

This morning I came home early. It was two A. M. I'd been to the club, and got caught in the rain. For half an hour I couldn't find the key hole, which must have got mislaid. I felt for it everywhere, and even got down into the yard and examined every brick, but could not find it. I was in the act of calling one of my neighbors, and asking him who had carried off my front door, when I happened to find it and got into the house.

In the dark I kicked over a spittoon, but luckily didn't get any of the tobacco juice on my boots. I hung my overcoat and umbrella on a prong of the chandelier, let them drip on the parlor carpet, went up stairs and I turned in with my boots on. I thought it wasn't worth while to pull them off, as I would have to get up in eight or ten hours anyhow. If my wife had been at home she'd have had me looking an hour for the boot-jack, and I would have lost that amount of rest, which my system so much needed. Besides, she'd have made me give a full account of myself, which I don't like to do. I never did believe in praising myself. It's better to let others speak of one's virtues. I can now wear a shirt a week, and its nobody's business. I don't see how I ever did get along with that woman. The idea of having to put on a clean shirt, black my boots, and brush up my clothes every morning, is simply ridiculous. It is a miracle to me how I ever did it and attend to my other affairs.

I now read the morning paper without being forced to see an impatient woman standing with her dress in one hand, looking very miserable, and telling me she is going down town and wants that paper. Any one, to look at the house now, would know there's no woman about, everything is so quiet and comfortable and handy. If I want to do a little figuring I don't have to hunt up a pencil, or pen and ink, but just sit down to one of the tables and do it with my finger and there's nobody to be eternally wielding a dusting brush around my head, and telling me to get out of the way until the house is cleaned up.

These are considerations that every married man should ponder over. But when we do ponder and resolve, what good does it do? That's the question that is now agitating the American people. What good does it do? Not a bit. If these women can't have everything their own way, they swoon off into hysterics. As a consequence, we have to pay a fifty dollar doctor's bill, and stay in the house all day, fanning them, and promising in the end that "we may be happy yet," before they show any disposition to compromise. Our wives are petted too much. And this reminds me that mine won't yield to any other treatment. I undertook to prescribe a more stringent remedy for her one day, but it threw her into a fit more like jim-jams than anything I know of. She broke every plate in the house over my head, and then I had to kiss her before she would promise not to do that again. That's what makes me say she is set in her ways.

There, too, are the piano and guitar, which she kept going from morning until midnight, filling the whole neighborhood with the discordant sounds which she called music. Both are as mute as the bird-cage which was vacated last week by a strategetic movement of the cat.

The two hundred pots of flowers which she left me to cultivate I don't think will produce much of a crop. They're nearly all ripe now, and there's no sign of a flower yet. I have watered them twice since she left, but it did no good. I reckon they miss her, and are pining away because she ain't here. In this respect they do not resemble me to any alarming extent

Our kitchen never looked better. The stove and pipe have assumed a beautiful red tint, and the pots are bringing forth a fine crop of white looking vegetable mold which I haven't learned the name of, but she'll know it when she comes. The dishes don't look quite as bright and clean as they might, but the flies are bad this year, and if I were to wash them every two weeks they wouldn't present a respectable appearance.

Notice to the editor.—Please suppress that article I sent you about my "Spell of Single Blessedness." The old woman has got back.

A New Scientific College.

A new instituion, somewhat on the plan of the Stevens Institute, Hoboken, N. J., is soon to be built at Birmingham, Eng., founded on the generous endowments of Sir Josiah Mason. The institution is to be called "Josiah Mason's College" or "Josiah Mason's College for the Study of Practical Science." Regular systematic instruction is to be given in mathematics, abstract and applied physics, both mathematical and experimental; chemistry, theoretical, practical and applied; the natural sciences, especially geology and mineralogy, with their application to mines and matallurgy; botany and zoology, with special application to manufactures; and physiology, with special reference to the laws of health, The English, French and German languages will also be taught. The Trustees have power to include mechanics and architecture and all other subjects necessary to carry out the objects of the founder. Mere literary education and instruction are excluded, as well as all teaching of theology and subjects purely theological. No principal, professor, teacher, or other officer of the college is ever to be called upon to make any "declaration as to or submit to any test whatever of his religious or theological opinion." Nor are these in any wise to be considered either as qualifications or disqualification for holding any office; fitness to give the instruction required being the sole and only test. Provision is also made for giving lectures and opening classes for popular or unsystematic instruction, at which the attendance shall be open to all persons. "without distinction of age, class, creed, race, or sex." The founder's object being to promote the prosperity of manufactures and industry. The college will be open to qualified persons of all classes, who have to rely on science, art, or manufactures for a livelihood, "especially the more intelligent youth of the middle class." Provision is also made, when the funds permit it, to provide instruction for females as well as males.

"No. 17 Arlington St., London, England. Jan. 6, 1870.

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY,
"U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.
I consider the New American Cyclopaedia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopaedia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.
I own Appletons' Cyclopaedia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.
CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.
JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.
MY DEAR SIR: I have used the 'New American Cyclopaedia' since the first volume came into existence, and deem it the best work of the kind in print. Yours, &c., HORACE GREELEY."

Appletons' Cyclopaedia is unquestionably the best popular manual of general reference for an American. GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

"Washington, Nov. 12, 1869.
DEAR SIR: I quite agree with Mr. Curtis, that the 'New American Cyclopaedia' is 'the best manual of general reference for an American.' The annual continuations are also of great value.

The Daily Freeman.

Kingston, Friday Morning, August 8.

Notice to Subscribers.

On and after the 1st of September no papers, except the Daily delivered by carrier and payable weekly, will be sent from this office unless paid for strictly IN ADVANCE. Bills will not be sent either by a collector or by mail, but two weeks preceding the expiration of the term of subscription notice will be sent of that fact. The non-receipt of the cash before the date of expiration will be taken as a notice from the subscriber to discontinue, and the name will be dropped from the list.

As the business will be left entirely to our mailing clerk none of our subscribers will be justified in taking offence because of personal relations to the editors or any of the stockholders of the Association.

In explanation to our subscribers we state that we find, after much experience in newspaper publishing, that this is the only way of conducting the collecting in a manner satisfactory to both publisher and subscriber. We find all other ways liable to constant errors, against which in a large business in which many hands are employed it is almost impossible to guard. Under the system now adopted no subscriber takes a paper one day longer than he desires, and if he wishes it discontinued it is done without his being put to the sometimes disagreeable necessity of notifying the publisher. The publisher does not have to incur the risk of dead-beats, slow-play, repudiating, or dead subscribers, and hence can rely on his subscription receipts corresponding exactly with his mailing lists,

The subscription price of The Weekly Freeman is $2 in advance, for which sum it is sent postpaid to any subscriber in the county, or delivered by carrier in the city. The Daily Freeman is sent to subscribers within the county postpaid for $8, and to others, postage payable at the office where received, for $8. Delivered by carrier in the city for 18 cents per week, payable to the carrier boys.

Redingotes.

The grand result of the joint labors of the entire force employed in this office to discover the mystery and meaning of redingotes is about as follows: The redingote is an obscure member of the goat family. At least he was obscure until certain daring ladies brought him into notice. He is different from a billy goat, although he is often seen loafing around among rocks and in the midst of green pastures. He has no particular color. He is frequently stuck over with big buttons, although he is said to be able to exist without them. These buttons are manufactured from his mother's saucers and butter-plates covered with cloth "of the same." The redingote is a hardy beast. He can stand a deal of exposure. Being out late of nights, and riding in carriages girdled with masculine coat-sleeves won't hurt him. He goes to camp-meetings and circuses, is impervious to dens, duns and dampness. Our local, on being interrogated on the subject, says we are all wrong. The redingote is not a goat at all, but is a corruption of riding-coat. Well, we knew there was something corrupt about it, but couldn't tell what. At all events we have shown our knowledge of natural history. Ba-a-aa!

The Old Madness.

"Whom the gods will to destroy they first make mad," saith the ancient adage. If so, destruction, swift and irremediable, may be predicated of the Conservative Virginia politicians now in convention at Richmond. We cannot sketch its proceedings here, but the whole thing is suicidal. It is the old folly about "a white man's government" and "state rights." There is said to be much "enthusiasm" in the convention, though for what it would puzzle anybody but an F. F. V. to tell. There is also a warm struggle over the nomination for Governor of that venerable mother of Presidents. Other than by this present local question, an observer from the outside world would have no reason to look upon the crowd in Richmond as anything but a gathering of ghosts. It ignores all vital issues of to-day. Its thoughts dwell upon Virginia and it grows pitifully idiotic over the hope of reproducing the past. How comical this would be were it not so ghostly; this dancing of ghouls among graves! How mournfully rattle their bony castinets, and how like the sigh of a moulding organ comes the breath through their fleshless throats! A notable company of names are there. Jubal Early, Fitzhugh Lee, and other men upon whom death has a mortgage and oblivion an attachment. They can do no harm, those gray-headed babies of a generation that is gone. Over so ridiculous a display it is comforting to know that the Rev. Dr. J. L. Burrows, of the Baptist church, offered a fervent and feeling prayer.

Democratic Snobbery.

The Brooklyn Eagle in a well-deserved criticism upon a recent letter from London written by Miss Kate Field and published in the Tribune, cauterizes that vivacious lady for going out of her own way and out of the way of common decency to revile the Duke of Edinburgh. It will be remembered that we alluded editorially a day or two since to the approaching marriage of that royal young gentleman to a Princess of Russia. The English press, of course, indulged in more or less extended comments upon these prospective nuptials, inasmuch as the nation is interested in them, monetarily, politically and socially. These royal marriages in monarchical countries are public affairs and often very largely affect the relations between them. The alliance matrimonial has frequently been equivalent to a treaty of peace between naturally hostile peoples; and where war means so much in the direction of terror and disaster the temporary prevention of it by the convenient union of two members of royal families is lifted above the range of purely personal considerations.—Therefore, both the papers of the interested nations and the factors of the government discuss their desirableness as matters of national policy. None but obscene journals and the ranting red-mouthed oracles of the stump and the bustings pretend to the privilege of dragging the immediate subjects of these engagements from the privacy to which they have as good a personal right as have tradesmen or peasants and then making them the targets of ridicule and indecent description. Miss Field, of whom better things ought to have been expected, enjoys whatever credit for courage or independence may attach to that style of writing up of important public events. She speaks of the Duke of Edinburgh, who is Queen Victoria's second son, in apparently the same spirit as fills the dusky breast of the carrion crow when he descends upon a carcass and stuffs his not over dainty stomach with the luscious tit-bits of odorous decomposition. She does this, not at all because she bears any ill-will towards the scion of royalty, but for the still meaner reason that she thinks that Americans like to read blackguardy letters about Kings, Queens and Princes. She is paid for her articles and gets them up to suit the market as she understands the market. To do that is to be guilty of at least two mistakes. First, the mistake of supposing that a majority of more or less sensible and cultivated Americans believe republicanism to flourish by their entertaining a healthy contempt for a monarchy and its incidental methods and surroundings. Second, the mistake of thinking that flunkeyism towards a mob, real or assumed, is of a higher order than flunkeyism towards a monarch. Democratic snobbery which goes about with unwashed feet and a dirty face is just so much meaner than aristocratic snobbery with its gold lace and superciliousness, as vileness and filth which is proud of its character is meaner than an amusing faith in the holiness of the lines of social cleavage founded on decency and self-respect.

Miss Field illustrates increasingly, we are sorry to observe, something which is fast assuming the outlines of a fact. That is that women as newspaper correspondents either fall into vapid inanity or run into a wretched imitation of what they seem to think is noble and leonine masculinity. Masculinity in a man is the aggregation of all commendable traits; in a woman it is the prolific seed-bed of all verbal vulgarity. This, of course, has the traditional exceptions. However, let Kate talk of bustles and overskirts and abandon the attempt to be smart on delicate ground.—It is pitiful enough to see a ring politician licking spittle for popularity, but when a lady does it!—Wife, pass that cologne!

A Self-Averted Danger.

When we can we are most happy to agree with the New York World. That paper is so exceedingly opinionated and so habitually controversial that to catch it holding one opinion on a debatable subject long enough to admit of the expression by any one else of a like sentiment, is no common thing.

A possible exception to this generally true statement would be the World's pet theory about the tariff; we can think at this moment of no other. Our point of harmony with it to-day concerns the question of the future position of the negro element in the United States. For a long time, indeed ever since the future freedom of that race was considered to be merely a matter of time, the relation they would hold politically and socially to our white population has been a subject of intense interest to succeeding generations of our thinkers and statesmen. Henry Clay, when Secretary of State under President J. Q. Adams, zealously promoted the objects of the American Colonization Society. He favored the separation of the white and black races if a design for bringing about this end could be made practicable. The result of the labors of himself and co-operators in that work is the Republic of Liberia. That method, however, was only a partial success. Now, after the revolution of years and the abolition of slavery, the problem appears to be solving itself. The negroes are deserting the poor uplands of the Southern states and peopling the fat bottom lands of the lower Mississippi.—They can stand the climate and resist its incidental diseases better than whites. This is exactly as it should be. Then, before the lapse of much time, certain states, probably Louisiana and Mississippi, will be almost exclusively inhabited and managed by the blacks. They will own and engineer their banks, railway companies, steamboats and institutions of all kinds. Every stimulus to study, self and corporate improvement will be afforded them by their not being in competition with the superior race. The indelible prejudice of color will hardly be felt, and the highest possibilities of their race will be seen under the operation of local governments which they control, and social usages which they originate themselves. When, therefore, the entire negro population now among us, is segregated in this way we should, according to the World's figures, have not less than four average states purely Ethiopian. Remembering that the peculiar nature of our governmental system places all measures of foreign policy upon the shoulders of Federal authority, and that state constitutions must harmonize with the national constitution and with each other in all essential respects, any assumed fear of their becoming a disturbing portion of our common country vanishes away. In this way and probably in no other can the vexed negro question be settled with justice to all concerned and forever removed from the field of American politics.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—Kate Stoddard is quiet—in her cell, and the reporters molest her no more for the present.

—A Brooklyn paper estimated that four million segars are smoked monthly in that city. The local retail trade in the article is declared to be overdone.

—The stockholders of the Brooklyn Trust Company have voted to pay into its treasury fifty per cent. of the capital stock held by them. Business will accordingly be resumed to-morrow, and depositors paid.

—That nothing fatal will ensue at an early day from the paralytic stroke received by the eminent and justly popular historian, John Lathrop Motley, will be hoped by all admirers of his talent and the power of his vigorous pen.

—One of the very best suggestions yet made for the vacant place of the late Chief Justice Chase is the name of Judge Henry R. Selden, of Rochester, one of the ablest of living jurists and the purest of men. Will President Grant give a suggestion like this the attention it merits?

—The New York dailies print quarreling squibs at one another in regard to the threatened suits against the present Erie Railroad management. One portion of them call the concern a "swindling road," the other side claim that a raid in the interests of stockjobbers forms the hue and cry of the outs.

—The Ohio Democratic Convention marked a "new departure" in this, by refusing formal alliance with Liberal Republicans or any other organization, and resolving to fight the campaign on a "straight-out" basis. The result in Ohio in October will be important, as settling future partisan matters that now remain somewhat muddled, provided, of course, the new Order of Granges don't enter the political arena.

—The Colored Republican State Convention (let the chance for a pun on this designation pass) which met at Saratoga, Wednesday, was attended by but seventeen delegates. Its principal object was to decide whether or not to keep up a distinct organization any longer. After considerable debate a motion prevailed to form a permanent organization for the year, and the body adjourned to meet in New York October 2d.

—What, next to a silly political dispute between persons with fixed opinions, is more absurd than a personal religious controversy? Whenever we happen to overhear such a wasteful expenditure of breath and bad temper we feel like pitying and then turning a stream from a hose pipe on the disputants. Toleration, political and religious, imbues the minds of all liberal-minded people in a free republic.

—This age of progress witnesses no improvement in the tedious verbiage of legal language, as shown in the endless repetitions that characterize old common law documents, from which source modern lawyers get their earliest inspiration. Would it not be better to simplify the present legal phraseology? for with all its heavy formality and explicit repetition flaws are constantly construed in laws by the critical who are directly interested. Let us have laws expressed in simpler language.

—Our tables as a rule are well spread ones. A just complaint is that they are too well laden with viands for health and the frequent short periods between meals. Where much variety of food is granted the main idea should be rather constant changes instead of general profusion. This rule will now well apply, since the appearance of new vegetables. Don't put too many kinds on the table at once. At any rate eat sparingly of all or more generously of but one or two kinds.

—One consolation can be felt by those who fail to reach public summer resorts, by either lack of means or inclination. Any such disposed to be constant readers of the ponderous New York dailies will be frequently served by correspondents with all of moment that happens at these resorts, and much besides by way of extended comment. Much of the extravagant folly there annually displayed can be then quietly dwelt upon, and if productive of good results in the shape of a counter-irritants may not have been penned in vain.

TELEGRAPH.

REGULAR DISPATCHES TO DAILY FREEMAN.

FOREIGN.

GERMANY.

The Cartagena Matter.

BERLIN, August 7.—The North German Gazette denies the truth of the report that the German Consul of Cartagena went to Madrid to place the captured insurgent vessels at the disposal of the government.

FRANCE.

Chambord Interviews Paris.

PARIS, August 7.—A Vienna despatch says Count de Chambord yesterday returned the visit of Count de Paris. The interview lasted over an hour. Nothing is known of the nature of the conference.

PARIS, August 7.—A Vienna dispatch says that in his late interview with Count de Chambord the Count de Paris acknowledged the former to be the head of the house of Bourbon and of the royal line of France. On the return visit of Chambord to Count de Paris the latter met Chambord at the door of his hotel and escorted him within.

AN UNFOUNDED RUMOR.

The rumor that M. Couscelles was endeavoring to induce the French government to attempt the re-establishment of the temporal power of the Pope is unfounded.

CUBA.

The New Decree Denounced.

HAVANA, August 7.—The Diario de la Marino to-day says of the telegrams announcing the promulgation of a decree annulling the sequestration of property of Cuban rebels that it will not pronounce the news false for fear of misleading the public, but it cannot accept it without official confirmation. The Diario thinks it impossible that the Spanish government decrees the immediate return of their property to rebels and rebel sympathizers. It says the rebels have used a great part of their resources in buying vessels and arms to carry on the war. The return of their property will send out new expeditions and prolong the struggle. It thinks such action would be an absurdity and show a want of reason and patriotic sentiment on the part of the government. The loyal people of Cuba are making heavy sacrifices to enable the government to sustain the increasing expenses of the war, and it is a great outrage to take a million or more out of the treasury in this way.

SPAIN.

The Carlist War.

MADRID, August 7.—The Carlists have attacked Orgarzum in Guipuzcoa. A conspiracy has been discovered to give the town up to the enemy and many arrests have been made.

BAYONNE, August 7.—The Carlists claim a victory at Elgneta in Guipuzcoa, ten miles from San Sebastian. They state that they captured one Republican General and 600 prisoners.

The bombardment of Valencia has been suspended, a flag of truce having been received from the insurgents requesting a parley, which is now going on.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CORTES.

The Cortes by a vote of 184 yeas to 1 nay have passed a bill granting constitutional quaranties to Porto Rico. A deputy from that colony in the course of the debate declared that the island would always remain faithful to Spain.

The Imparcial says that Espartero is extremely popular in the Cortes.

GREAT BRITAIN.

A Marine Disaster.

LONDON, August 7.—A large quantity of debris from a wrecked vessel has been discovered off the coast of Ireland. The wreck is supposed to have been that of the State Line steamship Alabama, which left Glasgow for New York on Saturday last. No survivors from any wreck in that vicinity have as yet been heard of and nothing more definite in regard to the disaster can now be learned.

IMPORTANT MINISTERIAL CHANGES.

LONDON, August 7.—A cabinet council was held this afternoon. The discussion resulted in important changes in the present ministery. The Marquis of Ripon and Messrs. Childers and Baxter have resigned, the two first for private reasons. Mr. Gladstone, in addition to the Premiership, assumes the Chancellorship of the Exchequer in lieu of Mr. Lowe, who assumes the Home Office. Mr. Bruce is to be made a peer and will succeed Lord Ripon as President of the Council. Mr. Borham Carter succeeds Mr. Baxter as Joint Secretary of the Treasury. Arthur Peel becomes the Liberal whip. Other changes are expected in a few days. John Bright joins the cabinet as Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

The Orange societies of Liverpool yesterday welcomed the Canadian Orange deputies with a grand public demonstration.

THE VIRGINIA CONVENTION.

Kempter Nominated for Governor After a Nearly All Night Session.

RICHMOND, August 7.—A recess was taken until 4 o'clock, when the Committee on Credentials reported. Several hours were consumed in discussing the report. A committee on permanent organization was reported.—The committee on organization reported the following officers: Hon. Thos. S. Bocock, of Appomatox, President, with nine Vice Presidents.

Mr. Bocock, upon taking the chair, addressed the Convention in an eloquent and stirring speech. Prayer was then offered, and a committee of two from each district was appointed to whom shall be referred without debate all business coming before the Convention. A resolution to go into an election of nominees for State officers was adopted. Gen. James Lawson Kemper and Robert E. Withers were nominated.

At 1 A. M. Mr. James Barbour commenced making a speech, at the conclusion of which the previous question was called, and, being agreed to, the Convention went into ballot for Governor, the roll being called by counties. As the vote progressed, the greatest excitement prevailed, and a tally showed that it was remarkably close. Finally a delegate moved that the nomination of Kemper for Governor be made unanimous, which was agreed to.

A letter was then read from Gen. Kemper, dated over two weeks since, in which he stated that he did not want the nomination, but if it was confirmed would do his best to serve the people. The Convention adjourned at 2 P. M.

RICHMOND, August 7.—General James A. Walker of Pulaski county, Gen. J. H. Williams of Frederick county, and D. J. Goodwin of Portsmouth were also nominated for Attorney General. All the candidates were endorsed in speeches which consumed several hours, when finally the roll of counties was ordered to be called. No choice was made by the first ballot, though Daniels lead. A number of counties changed votes solidly to Daniels, when a motion to make his nomination unanimous was carried amid great applause. Mr. Daniels accepted in a stirring speech, after which a recess was taken till 8 P. M., when the platform will be reported. The utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed during the day and the proceedings were conducted amid much enthusiasm.

Upon the re-assembling of the convention at 8.30 o'clock the committee on business, through Hon. James Barbour of Culpepper, reported the following series of resolutions on the declaration of principles, which were adopted:

First, that the contrast of the condition of Virginia under the conservative government with the condition of those southern states which have been under radical rule illustrates the wisdom of the people of Virginia in the adoption of their plan of state policy and demonstrates the necessity of continuing the powers of the state government in the control of the conservative people of the commonwealth.

Second, That the chief purpose of the Conservative party of Virginia is to secure to every citizen of this commonwealth, whether native or adopted, of the white or colored race, exact and impartial justice and to promote by wise and beneficent legislation the prosperity of our whole people.

Third, That the Conservative party of Virginia, disclaiming all purpose of captious hostility to General Grant, will judge him impartially by his official action and will cordially co-operate in ever measure of his administration which may be beneficent in its design and calculated to promote the welfare of the people and cultivate sentiments of good-will between different sections of the Union.

The fourth resolution advocates the completion of the James River and Kanawha Canal.

The fifth congratulates the state upon the progress of the free school system and advocates liberal provisions for the education of both races.

A telegram was received from Gen. Kemper accepting the nomination. The Convention adjourned sine die and was resolved into a mass meeting at 11 o'clock to allow the most prominent speakers to address the vast assemblage.

Egbert, United States Deputy Marshal, and a gang of illicit distillers, in which a man named Wilcox, an assistant of the Marshal, was killed by John A. Vangard, who had previously surrendered but was rescued by his friends. The Marshal had but three men, while his opponents numbered eight.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Constitutional and Township Elections.

WILMINGTON, N. C., August 7.—The election on the constitutional amendments and for township officers took place throughout the state to-day. But little interest was manifested. This county give a majority against the amendments, but it is generally understood that they are all adopted. There was but little opposition in the majority of counties; only in a few counties where colored people predominate was there any decided effort made to defeat the amendments.

KENTUCKY.

A Dastardly Outrage.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., August 7.—Last night six disguised men entered the house of Mr. Robert Allen, a wealthy farmer living six miles from Owensboro, Kentucky. Mr. Allen and his nephew, John Allen, were awakened by the men, who at once commenced firing at them. Allen was shot in the thigh and his nephew in the breast. Both escaped to the road, where the young man's dead body was found in the morning. There is no clue to the murderers, but the whole neighborhood is aroused and a vigorous search is being prosecuted.

INDIAN TERRITORY.

A Fight with Ruffians.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., August 7.—A special dispatch to the Democrat from Venita, Indian Territory, says there was a fight on Tuesday about twenty-five miles west of there, on Verdigris Creek, caused by a party of roughs assaulting some quiet citizens and driving them and their families from home. About forty citizens started in pursuit of the roughs, overtook them and a fight ensued, in which several persons were slightly wounded. The roughs escaped, but the pursuit was continued and at last accounts was still kept up.

VERMONT.

The Soldiers' Re-Union.

RUTLAND, Vt., August 7.—The second day of the Vermont Soldiers' Re-Union has been a grand success. A beautiful day, a large gathering of soldiers and citizens and eloquent orators have tended to put all in good humor to-night. The review of General Veazey's division to-day at Camp Doubleday by Gov. Converse took place at 2 o'clock, soon after which addresses were made by Gens. Devens, Hawley, Doubleday, Robinson, Stannard, Griffin, Sprague, Keosey and Chaplain Trumbull. The evening was given up to a grand torch-light procession, passing through the principal streets in the village. The illuminations and decorations were fine, some of them remarkably so. Among the most noticeable were the offices of the Herald and Globe, the residences of Gen. Baxter and W. C. Clement. The Herald building was pronounced by all to have been the most elaborate of any in the line of march. Great enthusiasm prevailed among the soldiers and officers in regard to this re-union. The division breaks camp to-morrow.

NEW YORK.

The National Educational Association Meeting.

ELMIRA, August 7.—The meeting of the National Educational Association this morning was very largely attended. W. A. Newall, Suprintendent of Schools of Maryland, spoke in regard to the school system of that state. He was followed and sustained by Dr. VanBokkelen of New York. A resolution was offered and referred to a committee to the effect that it is the opinion of the Association that the proceeds of the sale of public lands hereafter should be set aside as a perpetual fund for the support of education. The resolution was ably sustained by Professor Atkinson of Boston and J. W. Bulkley of Brooklyn. The discussion was continued by W. G. Brown of Louisiana, Professor Atherton of New Jersey, Dr. McCosh, Hon. J. C. Gibbs of Florida, President Fairchild of Kentucky and Prof. Jaynes of Virginia.

Ex-Governor Seymour being accidentally in the city and in the hall was called upon and addressed the Association. He spoke generally upon the subject of education and pleased the audience highly. The time and place for holding the next meeting of the Association was left to the Board of Directors.

Its Reappearance at Chattanooga.

As yet it is confined to the colored population and caused by eating unripe fruit and melons. The Mayor of Chattanooga has issued a proclamation forbidding the sale or exhibition of all fruits and vegetables except potatoes and tomatoes.

THE DISEASE AT COLUMBUS.

COLUMBUS, O., August 7.—There are wild rumors afloat as to cholera in this locality. Talk with physicians to-night shows that from the best information obtainable since July 5th last there have been twenty-four cases of cholera outside of the penitentiary, of which eighteen were fatal. There are now but six cases in the city, and two of these are of a mild type.

—Prof. Wise's obituary is in type in all the well regulated newspaper offices.

—Albany complains of the many sneak-thieves, pickpockets and loose women on the People's Line of night boats plying between there and New York. The Times, of the former city, thinks a police detective aboard each trip would tend to remedy and break up these evils.

—The body of Maria Hogeboom, late of Boston Corners, which place she left several weeks ago in a deranged state of mind, was found Tuesday in Thompson's Pond, a little south of Pine Plains. A case of undoubted suicide.

The Daily Freeman.

Kingston, Friday Morning, August 8.

Notice to Subscribers.

On and after the 1st of September no papers, except the Daily delivered by carrier and payable weekly, will be sent from this office unless paid for strictly IN ADVANCE. Bills will not be sent either by a collector or by mail, but two weeks preceding the expiration of the term of subscription notice will be sent of that fact. The non-receipt of the cash before the date of expiration will be taken as a notice from the subscriber to discontinue, and the name will be dropped from the list.

As the business will be left entirely to our mailing clerk none of our subscribers will be justified in taking offence because of personal relations to the editors or any of the stockholders of the Association.

In explanation to our subscribers we state that we find, after much experience in newspaper publishing, that this is the only way of conducting the collecting in a manner satisfactory to both publisher and subscriber. We find all other ways liable to constant errors, against which in a large business in which many hands are employed it is almost impossible to guard. Under the system now adopted no subscriber takes a paper one day longer than he desires, and if he wishes it discontinued it is done without his being put to the sometimes disagreeable necessity of notifying the publisher. The publisher does not have to incur the risk of dead-beats, slow-play, repudiating, or dead subscribers, and hence can rely on his subscription receipts corresponding exactly with his mailing lists,

The subscription price of The Weekly Freeman is $2 in advance, for which sum it is sent postpaid to any subscriber in the county, or delivered by carrier in the city. The Daily Freeman is sent to subscribers within the county postpaid for $8, and to others, postage payable at the office where received, for $8. Delivered by carrier in the city for 18 cents per week, payable to the carrier boys.

Redingotes.

The grand result of the joint labors of the entire force employed in this office to discover the mystery and meaning of redingotes is about as follows: The redingote is an obscure member of the goat family. At least he was obscure until certain daring ladies brought him into notice. He is different from a billy goat, although he is often seen loafing around among rocks and in the midst of green pastures. He has no particular color. He is frequently stuck over with big buttons, although he is said to be able to exist without them. These buttons are manufactured from his mother's saucers and butter-plates covered with cloth "of the same." The redingote is a hardy beast. He can stand a deal of exposure. Being out late of nights, and riding in carriages girdled with masculine coat-sleeves won't hurt him. He goes to camp-meetings and circuses, is impervious to dens, duns and dampness. Our local, on being interrogated on the subject, says we are all wrong. The redingote is not a goat at all, but is a corruption of riding-coat. Well, we knew there was something corrupt about it, but couldn't tell what. At all events we have shown our knowledge of natural history. Ba-a-aa!

The Old Madness.

"Whom the gods will to destroy they first make mad," saith the ancient adage. If so, destruction, swift and irremediable, may be predicated of the Conservative Virginia politicians now in convention at Richmond. We cannot sketch its proceedings here, but the whole thing is suicidal. It is the old folly about "a white man's government" and "state rights." There is said to be much "enthusiasm" in the convention, though for what it would puzzle anybody but an F. F. V. to tell. There is also a warm struggle over the nomination for Governor of that venerable mother of Presidents. Other than by this present local question, an observer from the outside world would have no reason to look upon the crowd in Richmond as anything but a gathering of ghosts. It ignores all vital issues of to-day. Its thoughts dwell upon Virginia and it grows pitifully idiotic over the hope of reproducing the past. How comical this would be were it not so ghostly; this dancing of ghouls among graves! How mournfully rattle their bony castinets, and how like the sigh of a moulding organ comes the breath through their fleshless throats! A notable company of names are there. Jubal Early, Fitzhugh Lee, and other men upon whom death has a mortgage and oblivion an attachment. They can do no harm, those gray-headed babies of a generation that is gone. Over so ridiculous a display it is comforting to know that the Rev. Dr. J. L. Burrows, of the Baptist church, offered a fervent and feeling prayer.

Democratic Snobbery.

The Brooklyn Eagle in a well-deserved criticism upon a recent letter from London written by Miss Kate Field and published in the Tribune, cauterizes that vivacious lady for going out of her own way and out of the way of common decency to revile the Duke of Edinburgh. It will be remembered that we alluded editorially a day or two since to the approaching marriage of that royal young gentleman to a Princess of Russia. The English press, of course, indulged in more or less extended comments upon these prospective nuptials, inasmuch as the nation is interested in them, monetarily, politically and socially. These royal marriages in monarchical countries are public affairs and often very largely affect the relations between them. The alliance matrimonial has frequently been equivalent to a treaty of peace between naturally hostile peoples; and where war means so much in the direction of terror and disaster the temporary prevention of it by the convenient union of two members of royal families is lifted above the range of purely personal considerations.—Therefore, both the papers of the interested nations and the factors of the government discuss their desirableness as matters of national policy. None but obscene journals and the ranting red-mouthed oracles of the stump and the bustings pretend to the privilege of dragging the immediate subjects of these engagements from the privacy to which they have as good a personal right as have tradesmen or peasants and then making them the targets of ridicule and indecent description. Miss Field, of whom better things ought to have been expected, enjoys whatever credit for courage or independence may attach to that style of writing up of important public events. She speaks of the Duke of Edinburgh, who is Queen Victoria's second son, in apparently the same spirit as fills the dusky breast of the carrion crow when he descends upon a carcass and stuffs his not over dainty stomach with the luscious tit-bits of odorous decomposition. She does this, not at all because she bears any ill-will towards the scion of royalty, but for the still meaner reason that she thinks that Americans like to read blackguardy letters about Kings, Queens and Princes. She is paid for her articles and gets them up to suit the market as she understands the market. To do that is to be guilty of at least two mistakes. First, the mistake of supposing that a majority of more or less sensible and cultivated Americans believe republicanism to flourish by their entertaining a healthy contempt for a monarchy and its incidental methods and surroundings. Second, the mistake of thinking that flunkeyism towards a mob, real or assumed, is of a higher order than flunkeyism towards a monarch. Democratic snobbery which goes about with unwashed feet and a dirty face is just so much meaner than aristocratic snobbery with its gold lace and superciliousness, as vileness and filth which is proud of its character is meaner than an amusing faith in the holiness of the lines of social cleavage founded on decency and self-respect.

Miss Field illustrates increasingly, we are sorry to observe, something which is fast assuming the outlines of a fact. That is that women as newspaper correspondents either fall into vapid inanity or run into a wretched imitation of what they seem to think is noble and leonine masculinity. Masculinity in a man is the aggregation of all commendable traits; in a woman it is the prolific seed-bed of all verbal vulgarity. This, of course, has the traditional exceptions. However, let Kate talk of bustles and overskirts and abandon the attempt to be smart on delicate ground.—It is pitiful enough to see a ring politician licking spittle for popularity, but when a lady does it!—Wife, pass that cologne!

A Self-Averted Danger.

When we can we are most happy to agree with the New York World. That paper is so exceedingly opinionated and so habitually controversial that to catch it holding one opinion on a debatable subject long enough to admit of the expression by any one else of a like sentiment, is no common thing.

A possible exception to this generally true statement would be the World's pet theory about the tariff; we can think at this moment of no other. Our point of harmony with it today concerns the question of the future position of the negro element in the United States. For a long time, indeed ever since the future freedom of that race was considered to be merely a matter of time, the relation they would hold politically and socially to our white population has been a subject of intense interest to succeeding generations of our thinkers and statesmen. Henry Clay, when Secretary of State under President J. Q. Adams, zealously promoted the objects of the American Colonization Society. He favored the separation of the white and black races if a design for bringing about this end could be made practicable. The result of the labors of himself and co-operators in that work is the Republic of Liberia. That method, however, was only a partial success. Now, after the revolution of years and the abolition of slavery, the problem appears to be solving itself. The negroes are deserting the poor uplands of the Southern states and peopling the fat bottom lands of the lower Mississippi.—They can stand the climate and resist its incidental diseases better than whites. This is exactly as it should be. Then, before the lapse of much time, certain states, probably Louisiana and Mississippi, will be almost exclusively inhabited and managed by the blacks. They will own and engineer their banks, railway companies, steamboats and institutions of all kinds. Every stimulus to study, self and corporate improvement will be afforded them by their not being in competition with the superior race. The indelible prejudice of color will hardly be felt, and the highest possibilities of their race will be seen under the operation of local governments which they control, and social usages which they originate themselves. When, therefore, the entire negro population now among us, is segregated in this way we should, according to the World's figures, have not less than four average states purely Ethiopian. Remembering that the peculiar nature of our governmental system places all measures of foreign policy upon the shoulders of Federal authority, and that state constitutions must harmonize with the national constitution and with each other in all essential respects, any assumed fear of their becoming a disturbing portion of our common country vanishes away. In this way and probably in no other can the vexed negro question be settled with justice to all concerned and forever removed from the field of American politics.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—Kate Stoddard is quiet—in her cell, and the reporters molest her no more for the present.

—A Brooklyn paper estimated that four million segars are smoked monthly in that city. The local retail trade in the article is declared to be overdone.

—The stockholders of the Brooklyn Trust Company have voted to pay into its treasury fifty per cent. of the capital stock held by them. Business will accordingly be resumed to-morrow, and depositors paid.

—That nothing fatal will ensue at an early day from the paralytic stroke received by the eminent and justly popular historian, John Lathrop Motley, will be hoped by all admirers of his talent and the power of his vigorous pen.

—One of the very best suggestions yet made for the vacant place of the late Chief Justice Chase is the name of Judge Henry R. Selden, of Rochester, one of the ablest of living jurists and the purest of men. Will President Grant give a suggestion like this the attention it merits?

—The New York dailies print quarreling squibs at one another in regard to the threatened suits against the present Erie Railroad management. One portion of them call the concern a "swindling road," the other side claim that a raid in the interests of stock-jobbers forms the hue and cry of the outs.

—The Ohio Democratic Convention marked a "new departure" in this, by refusing formal alliance with Liberal Republicans or any other organization, and resolving to fight the campaign on a "straight-out" basis. The result in Ohio in October will be important, as settling future partisan matters that now remain somewhat muddled, provided, of course, the new Order of Granges don't enter the political arena.

—The Colored Republican State Convention (let the chance for a pun on this designation pass) which met at Saratoga, Wednesday, was attended by but seventeen delegates. Its principal object was to decide whether or not to keep up a distinct organization any longer. After considerable debate a motion prevailed to form a permanent organization for the year, and the body adjourned to meet in New York October 2d.

—What, next to a silly political dispute between persons with fixed opinions, is more absurd than a personal religious controversy? Whenever we happen to overhear such a wasteful expenditure of breath and bad temper we feel like pitying and then turning a stream from a hose pipe on the disputants. Toleration, political and religious, imbues the minds of all liberal-minded people in a free republic.

—This age of progress witnesses no improvement in the tedious verbiage of legal language, as shown in the endless repetitions that characterize old common law documents, from which source modern lawyers get their earliest inspiration. Would it not be better to simplify the present legal phraseology? for with all its heavy formality and explicit repetition flaws are constantly construed in laws by the critical who are directly interested. Let us have laws expressed in simpler language.

—Our tables as a rule are well spread ones. A just complaint is that they are too well laden with viands for health and the frequent short periods between meals. Where much variety of food is granted the main idea should be rather constant changes instead of general profusion. This rule will now well apply, since the appearance of new vegetables. Don't put too many kinds on the table at once. At any rate eat sparingly of all or more generously of but one or two kinds.

—One consolation can be felt by those who fail to reach public summer resorts, by either lack of means or inclination. Any such disposed to be constant readers of the ponderous New York dailies will be frequently served by correspondents with all of moment that happens at these resorts, and much besides by way of extended comment. Much of the extravagant folly there annually displayed can be then quietly dwelt upon, and if productive of good results in the shape of a counter-irritants may not have been penned in vain.

—George W. Cass died at Dresden, Ohio, Wednesday, in his eighty-third year. The deceased was a resident of Ohio for seventy-three years, and was the last of the family of Major Jonathan Cass. He was a brother of Gen Lewis Cass of Michigan.

—The Kentucky election passed off with so little interest on Monday that returns are just being announced, showing the state yet remains Democratic, and electing to the office of Treasurer Hon. James W. Tate, the present incumbent, by a customary large majority.

—The Standard Oil Company, whose works suffered so disastrously from fire at Hunter's Point, Tuesday, have resolved to proceed with their immediate reconstruction. Wednesday a large force of men began to remove the debris.

—The London Times netted its proprietors $200,000 last year. Some of the New York dailies exceed that amount.

—"Stealing money is a serious business out here," said a Colorado paper, "but you can kill a man, and all they ask is that you don't leave him in the way."

—It is reported that Anna Dickinson is going upon the stage, and that she will make her debut in a dramatic version of the Scarlet Letter.

—A Vienna correspondent thinks that the Austrian women owe their reputation for beauty to the fact that many of them have golden hair and black eyes.

—The Tennessee papers can get more rattles on the end of a rattlesnake's tail than the press of all the other states put together.

—The New York Graphic wants Massachussetts to nominate George William Curtis, whose summer home is at Ashfield, for Governor.

—The wife of Senator Schurz is mentioned as having inherited $170,000 from her uncle, lately died, in Hamburg.

—Buffalo Bill and Texas Jack say they have made $30,000 apiece as tragedians, and are now blinding Omaho with the glare of their cut glass.

—The editor of an Illinois paper thinks fishing, as a general rule, don't pay. "We stood it all day in the river last week," he says, "but caught nothing—until we got home."

—The Duke of Edinburgh is described by Miss Kate Field in the Tribune as a bullying London swell, selfish, surly, ungenerous and mean, but with the best of cooks, the best of tailors. His complexion is very red.

—Immigration is light while the harvest season continues in Great Britain, but, when that closes, the steamship companies expect to bring over a large number of the laborers who will be thrown out of employment.

—By December four, our senators and representatives in Congress assembled will have done exactly three days' work, and will have been paid therefor, under the monthly payment dodge, the snug little sum of $2,058,750.

—One of the finest old gentlemen that have been at Saratoga this season is William A. Graham, ex-Governor of North Carolina, and Secretary of State under President Filmore. He is now seventy years old or more, yet still retains the mental vigor of his youth.

—Three hundred ladies, thinking the men are backward in the promotion of temperance, paraded the streets of Janesville, Wis., on Thursday evening last, in formidable column, and then appeared before the City Council with a petition signed by 1,250 ladies in favor of prohibition. Their reception by the Council, we are told, was courteous but not warm.

—The Cohoes Cataract has inaugurated a French Department in its columns, which is edited by Arthur Edward Valois. Mr. Valois was admitted to practice at the recent General Term.

REGULAR DISPATCHES TO DAILY FREEMAN.

FOREIGN.

GERMANY.

The Cartagena Matter.

BERLIN, August 7.—The North German Gazette denies the truth of the report that the German Consul of Cartagena went to Madrid to place the captured insurgent vessels at the disposal of the government.

FRANCE.

Chambord Interviews Paris.

PARIS, August 7.—A Vienna despatch says Count de Chambord yesterday returned the visit of Count de Paris. The interview lasted over an hour. Nothing is known of the nature of the conference.

PARIS, August 7.—A Vienna dispatch says that in his late interview with Count de Chambord the Count de Paris acknowledged the former to be the head of the house of Bourbon and of the royal line of France. On the return visit of Chambord to Count de Paris the latter met Chambord at the door of his hotel and escorted him within.

AN UNFOUNDED RUMOR.

The rumor that M. Couscelles was endeavoring to induce the French government to attempt the re-establishment of the temporal power of the Pope is unfounded.

CUBA.

The New Decree Denounced.

HAVANA, August 7.—The Diario de la Marino to-day says of the telegrams announcing the promulgation of a decree annulling the sequestration of property of Cuban rebels that it will not pronounce the news false for fear of misleading the public, but it cannot accept it without official confirmation. The Diario thinks it impossible that the Spanish government decrees the immediate return of their property to rebels and rebel sympathizers. It says the rebels have used a great part of their resources in buying vessels and arms to carry on the war. The return of their property will send out new expeditions and prolong the struggle. It thinks such action would be an absurdity and show a want of reason and patriotic sentiment on the part of the government. The loyal people of Cuba are making heavy sacrifices to enable the government to sustain the increasing expenses of the war, and it is a great outrage to take a million or more out of the treasury in this way.

SPAIN.

The Carlist War.

MADRID, August 7.—The Carlists have attacked Orgarzum in Guipuzcoa. A conspiracy has been discovered to give the town up to the enemy and many arrests have been made.

BAYONNE, August 7.—The Carlists claim a victory at Elgneta in Guipuzcoa, ten miles from San Sebastian. They state that they captured one Republican General and 600 prisoners,

The bombardment of Valencia has been suspended, a flag of truce having been received from the insurgents requesting a parley, which is now going on.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CORTES.

The Cortes by a vote of 184 yeas to 1 nay have passed a bill granting constitutional quaranties to Porto Rico. A deputy from that colony in the course of the debate declared that the island would always remain faithful to Spain.

The Imparcial says that Espartero is extremely popular in the Cortes.

GREAT BRITAIN.

A Marine Disaster.

LONDON, August 7.—A large quantity of debris from a wrecked vessel has been discovered off the coast of Ireland. The wreck is supposed to have been that of the State Line steamship Alabama, which left Glasgow for New York on Saturday last. No survivors from any wreck in that vicinity have as yet been heard of and nothing more definite in regard to the disaster can now be learned.

IMPORTANT MINISTERIAL CHANGES.

LONDON, August 7.—A cabinet council was held this afternoon. The discussion resulted in important changes in the present ministery. The Marquis of Ripon and Messrs. Childers and Baxter have resigned, the two first for private reasons. Mr. Gladstone, in addition to the Premiership, assumes the Chancellorship of the Exchequer in lieu of Mr. Lowe, who assumes the Home Office. Mr. Bruce is to be made a peer and will succeed Lord Ripon as President of the Council. Mr. Borham Carter succeeds Mr. Baxter as Joint Secretary of the Treasury. Arthur Peel becomes the Liberal whip. Other changes are expected in a few days. John Bright joins the cabinet as Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

The Orange societies of Liverpool yesterday welcomed the Canadian Orange deputies with a grand public demonstration.

THE VIRGINIA CONVENTION.

Kempter Nominated for Governor After a Nearly All Night Session.

RICHMOND, August 7.—A recess was taken until 4 o'clock, when the Committee on Credentials reported. Several hours were consumed in discussing the report. A committee on permanent organization was reported.—The committee on organization reported the following officers: Hon. Thos. S. Bocock, of Appomatox, President, with nine Vice Presidents.

Mr. Bocock, upon taking the chair, addressed the Convention in an eloquent and stirring speech. Prayer was then offered, and a committee of two from each district was appointed to whom shall be referred without debate all business coming before the Convention. A resolution to go into an election of nominees for State officers was adopted. Gen. James Lawson Kemper and Robert E. Withers were nominated.

At 1 A. M. Mr. James Barbour commenced making a speech, at the conclusion of which the previous question was called, and, being agreed to, the Convention went into ballot for Governor, the roll being called by counties. As the vote progressed, the greatest excitement prevailed, and a tally showed that it was remarkably close. Finally a delegate moved that the nomination of Kemper for Governor be made unanimous, which was agreed to.

A letter was then read from Gen. Kemper, dated over two weeks since, in which he stated that he did not want the nomination, but if it was confirmed would do his best to serve the people. The Convention adjourned at 2 P. M.

RICHMOND, August 7.—General James A. Walker of Pulaski county, Gen. J. H. Williams of Frederick county, and D. J. Goodwin of Portsmouth were also nominated for Attorney General. All the candidates were endorsed in speeches which consumed several hours, when finally the roll of counties was ordered to be called. No choice was made by the first ballot, though Daniels lead. A number of counties changed votes solidly to Daniels, when a motion to make his nomination unanimous was carried amid great applause. Mr. Daniels accepted in a stirring speech, after which a recess was taken till 8 P. M., when the platform will be reported. The utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed during the day and the proceedings were conducted amid much enthusiasm.

Upon the re-assembling of the convention at 8.30 o'clock the committee on business, through Hon. James Barbour of Culpepper, reported the following series of resolutions on the declaration of principles, which were adopted:

First, that the contrast of the condition of Virginia under the conservative government with the condition of those southern states which have been under radical rule illustrates the wisdom of the people of Virginia in the adoption of their plan of state policy and demonstrates the necessity of continuing the powers of the state government in the control of the conservative people of the commonwealth.

Second, That the chief purpose of the Conservative party of Virginia is to secure to every citizen of this commonwealth, whether native or adopted, of the white or colored race, exact and impartial justice and to promote by wise and beneficent legislation the prosperity of our whole people.

Third, That the Conservative party of Virginia, disclaiming all purpose of captious hostility to General Grant, will judge him impartially by his official action and will cordially co-operate in ever measure of his administration which may be beneficent in its design and calculated to promote the welfare of the people and cultivate sentiments of good-will between different sections of the Union.

The fourth resolution advocates the completion of the James River and Kanawha Canal.

The fifth congratulates the state upon the progress of the free school system and advocates liberal provisions for the education of both races.

A telegram was received from Gen. Kemper accepting the nomination. The Convention adjourned sine die and was resolved into a mass meeting at 11 o'clock to allow the most prominent speakers to address the vast assemblage.

UTAH.

Brigham's and Ann Eliza's Divorce Suit.

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 7.—Brigham Young's counsel filed a demurrer to the jurisdiction of the court in his divorce case this morning and the case was postponed until to-morrow afternoon.

MASSACHUSETTS.

A Raid on Lager Beer Sellers.

WORCESTER, Mass., August 7.—Fourteen German beer sellers were summoned before the Central District Court to-day, most of them for the third time. Six were fined $100 and costs, sentenced to the house of correction for six months and ordered to find $1,000 bail not to violate the law for a year. They all appealed and found the bail required.

MAINE.

A Railroad Unpleasantness.

PORTLAND, Me., August 7.—The Boston & Maine Railroad made a formal attempt to make a forcible connection with the Maine Central to-day, which was formally resisted. Each party had their legal advisers present, in order to make the necessary points for a law suit. No connection was made and no disturbance occurred.

VIRGINIA.

An Encounter with Revenue Officers.

RICHMOND, Va., August 7.—A fight took place yesterday in Scott county between a small force of revenue officers under Colonel George S. Egbert, United States Deputy Marshal, and a gang of illicit distillers, in which a man named Wilcox, an assistant of the Marshal, was killed by John A. Vangard, who had previously surrendered but was rescued by his friends. The Marshal had but three men, while his opponents numbered eight.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Constitutional and Township Elections.

WILMINGTON, N. C., August 7.—The election on the constitutional amendments and for township officers took place throughout the state to-day. But little interest was manifested. This county give a majority against the amendments, but it is generally understood that they are all adopted. There was but little opposition in the majority of counties; only in a few counties where colored people predominate was there any decided effort made to defeat the amendments.

KENTUCKY.

A Dastardly Outrage.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., August 7.—Last night six disguised men entered the house of Mr. Robert Allen, a wealthy farmer living six miles from Owensboro, Kentucky. Mr. Allen and his nephew, John Allen, were awakened by the men, who at once commenced firing at them. Allen was shot in the thigh and his nephew in the breast. Both escaped to the road, where the young man's dead body was found in the morning. There is no clue to the murderers, but the whole neighborhood is aroused and a vigorous search is being prosecuted.

INDIAN TERRITORY.

A Fight with Ruffians.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., August 7.—A special dispatch to the Democrat from Venita, Indian Territory, says there was a fight on Tuesday about twenty-five miles west of there, on Verdigris Creek, caused by a party of roughs assaulting some quiet citizens and driving them and their families from home. About forty citizens started in pursuit of the roughs, overtook them and a fight ensued, in which several persons were slightly wounded. The roughs escaped, but the pursuit was continued and at last accounts was still kept up.

VERMONT.

The Soldiers' Re-Union.

RUTLAND, Vt., August 7.—The second day of the Vermont Soldiers' Re-Union has been a grand success. A beautiful day, a large gathering of soldiers and citizens and eloquent orators have tended to put all in good humor to-night. The review of General Veazey's division to-day at Camp Doubleday by Gov. Converse took place at 2 o'clock, soon after which addresses were made by Gens. Devens, Hawley, Doubleday, Robinson, Stannard, Griffin, Sprague, Keosey and Chaplain Trumbull. The evening was given up to a grand torch-light procession, passing through the principal streets in the village. The illuminations and decorations were fine, some of them remarkably so. Among the most noticeable were the offices of the Herald and Globe, the residences of Gen. Baxter and W. C. Clement. The Herald building was pronounced by all to have been the most elaborate of any in the line of march. Great enthusiasm prevailed among the soldiers and officers in regard to this reunion. The division breaks camp to-morrow.

NEW YORK.

The National Educational Association Meeting.

ELMIRA, August 7.—The meeting of the National Educational Association this morning was very largely attended. W. A. Newall, Suprintendent of Schools of Maryland, spoke in regard to the school system of that state. He was followed and sustained by Dr. VanBokkelen of New York. A resolution was offered and referred to a committee to the effect that it is the opinion of the Association that the proceeds of the sale of public lands hereafter should be set aside as a perpetual fund for the support of education. The resolution was ably sustained by Professor Atkinson of Boston and J. W. Bulkley of Brooklyn. The discussion was continued by W. G. Brown of Louisiana, Professor Atherton of New Jersey, Dr. McCosh, Hon. J. C. Gibbs of Florida, President Fairchild of Kentucky and Prof. Jaynes of Virginia.

Ex-Governor Seymour being accidentally in the city and in the hall was called upon and addressed the Association. He spoke generally upon the subject of education and pleased the audience highly. The time and place for holding the next meeting of the Association was left to the Board of Directors.

—Prof. Wise's obituary is in type in all the well regulated newspaper offices.

—Albany complains of the many sneak-thieves, pickpockets and loose women on the People's Line of night boats plying between there and New York. The Times, of the former city, thinks a police detective aboard each trip would tend to remedy and break up these evils.

—The body of Maria Hogeboom, late of Boston Corners, which place she left several weeks ago in a deranged state of mind, was found Tuesday in Thompson's Pond, a little south of Pine Plains. A case of undoubted suicide.

The Daily Freeman.

Kingston, Friday Morning, August 8.

Notice to Subscribers.

On and after the 1st of September no papers, except the Daily delivered by carrier and payable weekly, will be sent from this office unless paid for strictly IN ADVANCE. Bills will not be sent either by a collector or by mail, but two weeks preceding the expiration of the term of subscription notice will be sent of that fact. The non-receipt of the cash before the date of expiration will be taken as a notice from the subscriber to discontinue, and the name will be dropped from the list.

As the business will be left entirely to our mailing clerk none of our subscribers will be justified in taking offence because of personal relations to the editors or any of the stockholders of the Association.

In explanation to our subscribers we state that we find, after much experience in newspaper publishing, that this is the only way of conducting the collecting in a manner satisfactory to both publisher and subscriber. We find all other ways liable to constant errors, against which in a large business in which many hands are employed it is almost impossible to guard. Under the system now adopted no subscriber takes a paper one day longer than he desires, and if he wishes it discontinued it is done without his being put to the sometimes disagreeable necessity of notifying the publisher. The publisher does not have to incur the risk of dead-beats, slow-play, repudiating, or dead subscribers, and hence can rely on his subscription receipts corresponding exactly with his mailing lists.

The subscription price of The Weekly Freeman is $2 in advance, for which sum it is sent postpaid to any subscriber in the county, or delivered by carrier in the city. The Daily Freeman is sent to subscribers within the county postpaid for $8, and to others, postage payable at the office where received, for $8. Delivered by carrier in the city for 18 cents per week, payable to the carrier boys.

Redingotes.

The grand result of the joint labors of the entire force employed in this office to discover the mystery and meaning of redingotes is about as follows: The redingote is an obscure member of the goat family. At least he was obscure until certain daring ladies brought him into notice. He is different from a billy goat, although he is often seen loafing around among rocks and in the midst of green pastures. He has no particular color. He is frequently stuck over with big buttons, although he is said to be able to exist without them. These buttons are manufactured from his mother's saucers and butter-plates covered with cloth "of the same." The redingote is a hardy beast. He can stand a deal of exposure. Being out late of nights, and riding in carriages girdled with masculine coat-sleeves won't hurt him. He goes to camp-meetings and circuses, is impervious to dens, duns and dampness. Our local, on being interrogated on the subject, says we are all wrong. The redingote is not a goat at all, but is a corruption of riding-coat. Well, we knew there was something corrupt about it, but couldn't tell what. At all events we have shown our knowledge of natural history. Ba-a-aa!

The Old Madness.

"Whom the gods will to destroy they first make mad," saith the ancient adage. If so, destruction, swift and irremediable, may be predicated of the Conservative Virginia politicians now in convention at Richmond. We cannot sketch its proceedings here, but the whole thing is suicidal. It is the old folly about "a white man's government" and "state rights." There is said to be much "enthusiasm" in the convention, though for what it would puzzle anybody but an F. F. V. to tell. There is also a warm struggle over the nomination for Governor of that venerable mother of Presidents. Other than by this present local question, an observer from the outside world would have no reason to look upon the crowd in Richmond as anything but a gathering of ghosts. It ignores all vital issues of to-day. Its thoughts dwell upon Virginia and it grows pitifully idiotic over the hope of reproducing the past. How comical this would be were it not so ghostly; this dancing of ghouls among graves! How mournfully rattle their bony castinets, and how like the sigh of a moulding organ comes the breath through their fleshless throats! A notable company of names are there. Jubal Early, Fitzhugh Lee, and other men upon whom death has a mortgage and oblivion an attachment. They can do no harm, those gray-headed babies of a generation that is gone. Over so ridiculous a display it is comforting to know that the Rev. Dr. J. L. Burrows, of the Baptist church, offered a fervent and feeling prayer.

Democratic Snobbery.

The Brooklyn Eagle in a well-deserved criticism upon a recent letter from London written by Miss Kate Field and published in the Tribune, cauterizes that vivacious lady for going out of her own way and out of the way of common decency to revile the Duke of Edinburgh. It will be remembered that we alluded editorially a day or two since to the approaching marriage of that royal young gentleman to a Princess of Russia. The English press, of course, indulged in more or less extended comments upon these prospective nuptials, inasmuch as the nation is interested in them, monetarily, politically and socially. These royal marriages in monarchical countries are public affairs and often very largely affect the relations between them. The alliance matrimonial has frequently been equivalent to a treaty of peace between naturally hostile peoples; and where war means so much in the direction of terror and disaster the temporary prevention of it by the convenient union of two members of royal families is lifted above the range of purely personal considerations.—Therefore, both the papers of the interested nations and the factors of the government discuss their desirableness as matters of national policy. None but obscene journals and the ranting red-mouthed oracles of the stump and the bustings pretend to the privilege of dragging the immediate subjects of these engagements from the privacy to which they have as good a personal right as have tradesmen or peasants and then making them the targets of ridicule and indecent description. Miss Field, of whom better things ought to have been expected, enjoys whatever credit for courage or independence may attach to that style of writing up of important public events. She speaks of the Duke of Edinburgh, who is Queen Victoria's second son, in apparently the same spirit as fills the dusky breast of the carrion crow when he descends upon a carcass and stuffs his not over dainty stomach with the luscious tit-bits of odorous decomposition. She does this, not at all because she bears any ill-will towards the scion of royalty, but for the still meaner reason that she thinks that Americans like to read blackguardly letters about Kings, Queens and Princes. She is paid for her articles and gets them up to suit the market as she understands the market. To do that is to be guilty of at least two mistakes. First, the mistake of supposing that a majority of more or less sensible and cultivated Americans believe republicanism to flourish by their entertaining a healthy contempt for a monarchy and its incidental methods and surroundings. Second, the mistake of thinking that flunkeyism towards a mob, real or assumed, is of a higher order than flunkeyism towards a monarch. Democratic snobbery which goes about with unwashed feet and a dirty face is just so much meaner than aristocratic snobbery with its gold lace and superciliousness, as vileness and filth which is proud of its character is meaner than an amusing faith in the holiness of the lines of social cleavage founded on decency and self-respect.

Miss Field illustrates increasingly, we are sorry to observe, something which is fast assuming the outlines of a fact. That is that women as newspaper correspondents either fall into vapid inanity or run into a wretched imitation of what they seem to think is noble and leonine masculinity. Masculinity in a man is the aggregation of all commendable traits; in a woman it is the prolific seed-bed of all verbal vulgarity. This, of course, has the traditional exceptions. However, let Kate talk of bustles and overskirts and abandon the attempt to be smart on delicate ground.—It is pitiful enough to see a ring politician licking spittle for popularity, but when a lady does it!—Wife, pass that cologne!

A Self-Averted Danger.

When we can we are most happy to agree with the New York World. That paper is so exceedingly opinionated and so habitually controversial that to catch it holding one opinion on a debatable subject long enough to admit of the expression by any one else of a like sentiment, is no common thing.

A possible exception to this generally true statement would be the World's pet theory about the tariff; we can think at this moment of no other. Our point of harmony with it today concerns the question of the future position of the negro element in the United States. For a long time, indeed ever since the future freedom of that race was considered to be merely a matter of time, the relation they would hold politically and socially to our white population has been a subject of intense interest to succeeding generations of our thinkers and statesmen. Henry Clay, when Secretary of State under President J. Q. Adams, zealously promoted the objects of the American Colonization Society. He favored the separation of the white and black races if a design for bringing about this end could be made practicable. The result of the labors of himself and co-operators in that work is the Republic of Liberia. That method, however, was only a partial success. Now, after the revolution of years and the abolition of slavery, the problem appears to be solving itself. The negroes are deserting the poor uplands of the Southern states and peopling the fat bottom lands of the lower Mississippi.—They can stand the climate and resist its incidental diseases better than whites. This is exactly as it should be. Then, before the lapse of much time, certain states, probably Louisiana and Mississippi, will be almost exclusively inhabited and managed by the blacks. They will own and engineer their banks, railway companies, steamboats and institutions of all kinds. Every stimulus to study, self and corporate improvement will be afforded them by their not being in competition with the superior race. The indelible prejudice of color will hardly be felt, and the highest possibilities of their race will be seen under the operation of local governments which they control, and social usages which they originate themselves. When, therefore, the entire negro population now among us, is segregated in this way we should, according to the World's figures, have not less than four average states purely Ethiopian. Remembering that the peculiar nature of our governmental system places all measures of foreign policy upon the shoulders of Federal authority, and that state constitutions must harmonize with the national constitution and with each other in all essential respects, any assumed fear of their becoming a disturbing portion of our common country vanishes away. In this way and probably in no other can the vexed negro question be settled with justice to all concerned and forever removed from the field of American politics.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—Kate Stoddard is quiet—in her cell, and the reporters molest her no more for the present.

—A Brooklyn paper estimated that four million segars are smoked monthly in that city. The local retail trade in the article is declared to be overdone.

—The stockholders of the Brooklyn Trust Company have voted to pay into its treasury fifty per cent. of the capital stock held by them. Business will accordingly be resumed to-morrow, and depositors paid.

—That nothing fatal will ensue at an early day from the paralytic stroke received by the eminent and justly popular historian, John Lathrop Motley, will be hoped by all admirers of his talent and the power of his vigorous pen.

—One of the very best suggestions yet made for the vacant place of the late Chief Justice Chase is the name of Judge Henry R. Selden, of Rochester, one of the ablest of living jurists and the purest of men. Will President Grant give a suggestion like this the attention it merits?

—The New York dailies print quarreling squibs at one another in regard to the threatened suits against the present Erie Railroad management. One portion of them call the concern a "swindling road," the other side claim that a raid in the interests of stock-jobbers forms the hue and cry of the outs.

—The Ohio Democratic Convention marked a "new departure" in this, by refusing formal alliance with Liberal Republicans or any other organization, and resolving to fight the campaign on a "straight-out" basis. The result in Ohio in October will be important, as settling future partisan matters that now remain somewhat muddled, provided, of course, the new Order of Granges don't enter the political arena.

—The Colored Republican State Convention (let the chance for a pun on this designation pass) which met at Saratoga, Wednesday, was attended by but seventeen delegates. Its principal object was to decide whether or not to keep up a distinct organization any longer. After considerable debate a motion prevailed to form a permanent organization for the year, and the body adjourned to meet in New York October 2d.

—What, next to a silly political dispute between persons with fixed opinions, is more absurd than a personal religious controversy? Whenever we happen to overhear such a wasteful expenditure of breath and bad temper we feel like pitying and then turning a stream from a hose pipe on the disputants. Toleration, political and religious, imbues the minds of all liberal-minded people in a free republic.

—This age of progress witnesses no improvement in the tedious verbiage of legal language, as shown in the endless repetitions that characterize old common law documents, from which source modern lawyers get their earliest inspiration. Would it not be better to simplify the present legal phraseology? for with all its heavy formality and explicit repetition flaws are constantly construed in laws by the critical who are directly interested. Let us have laws expressed in simpler language.

—Our tables as a rule are well spread ones. A just complaint is that they are too well laden with viands for health and the frequent short periods between meals. Where much variety of food is granted the main idea should be rather constant changes instead of general profusion. This rule will now well apply, since the appearance of new vegetables. Don't put too many kinds on the table at once. At any rate eat sparingly of all or more generously of but one or two kinds.

—One consolation can be felt by those who fail to reach public summer resorts, by either lack of means or inclination. Any such disposed to be constant readers of the ponderous New York dailies will be frequently served by correspondents with all of moment that happens at these resorts, and much besides by way of extended comment. Much of the extravagant folly there annually displayed can be then quietly dwelt upon, and if productive of good results in the shape of a counter-irritants may not have been penned in vain.

AN UNFOUNDED RUMOR.

The rumor that M. Couscelles was endeavoring to induce the French government to attempt the re-establishment of the temporal power of the Pope is unfounded.

CUBA.

The New Decree Denounced.

HAVANA, August 7.—The Diario de la Marino to-day says of the telegrams announcing the promulgation of a decree annulling the sequestration of property of Cuban rebels that it will not pronounce the news false for fear of misleading the public, but it cannot accept it without official confirmation. The Diario thinks it impossible that the Spanish government decrees the immediate return of their property to rebels and rebel sympathizers. It says the rebels have used a great part of their resources in buying vessels and arms to carry on the war. The return of their property will send out new expeditions and prolong the struggle. It thinks such action would be an absurdity and show a want of reason and patriotic sentiment on the part of the government. The loyal people of Cuba are making heavy sacrifices to enable the government to sustain the increasing expenses of the war, and it is a great outrage to take a million or more out of the treasury in this way.

SPAIN.

The Carlist War.

MADRID, August 7.—The Carlists have attacked Orgarzum in Guipuzcoa. A conspiracy has been discovered to give the town up to the enemy and many arrests have been made.

BAYONNE, August 7.—The Carlists claim a victory at Elgneta in Guipuzcoa, ten miles from San Sebastian. They state that they captured one Republican General and 600 prisoners.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CORTES.

The Cortes by a vote of 184 yeas to 1 nay have passed a bill granting constitutional quarranties to Porto Rico. A deputy from that colony in the course of the debate declared that the island would always remain faithful to Spain.

The Imparcial says that Espartero is extremely popular in the Cortes.

GREAT BRITAIN.

A Marine Disaster.

LONDON, August 7.—A large quantity of debris from a wrecked vessel has been discovered off the coast of Ireland. The wreck is supposed to have been that of the State Line steamship Alabama, which left Glasgow for New York on Saturday last. No survivors from any wreck in that vicinity have as yet been heard of and nothing more definite in regard to the disaster can now be learned.

IMPORTANT MINISTERIAL CHANGES.

LONDON, August 7.—A cabinet council was held this afternoon. The discussion resulted in important changes in the present ministery. The Marquis of Ripon and Messrs. Childers and Baxter have resigned, the two first for private reasons. Mr. Gladstone, in addition to the Premiership, assumes the Chancellorship of the Exchequer in lieu of Mr. Lowe, who assumes the Home Office. Mr. Bruce is to be made a peer and will succeed Lord Ripon as President of the Council. Mr. Borham Carter succeeds Mr. Baxter as Joint Secretary of the Treasury. Arthur Peel becomes the Liberal whip. Other changes are expected in a few days. John Bright joins the cabinet as Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

The Orange societies of Liverpool yesterday welcomed the Canadian Orange deputies with a grand public demonstration.

THE VIRGINIA CONVENTION.

Kempter Nominated for Governor After a Nearly All Night Session.

RICHMOND, August 7.—A recess was taken until 4 o'clock, when the Committee on Credentials reported. Several hours were consumed in discussing the report. A committee on permanent organization was reported.—The committee on organization reported the following officers: Hon. Thos. S. Bocock, of Appomatox, President, with nine Vice Presidents.

Mr. Bocock, upon taking the chair, addressed the Convention in an eloquent and stirring speech. Prayer was then offered, and a committee of two from each district was appointed to whom shall be referred without debate all business coming before the Convention. A resolution to go into an election of nominees for State officers was adopted. Gen. James Lawson Kemper and Robert E. Withers were nominated.

At 1 A. M. Mr. James Barbour commenced making a speech, at the conclusion of which the previous question was called, and, being agreed to, the Convention went into ballot for Governor, the roll being called by counties. As the vote progressed, the greatest excitement prevailed, and a tally showed that it was remarkably close. Finally a delegate moved that the nomination of Kemper for Governor be made unanimous, which was agreed to.

A letter was then read from Gen. Kemper, dated over two weeks since, in which he stated that he did not want the nomination, but if it was confirmed would do his best to serve the people. The Convention adjourned at 2 P. M.

RICHMOND, August 7.—General James A. Walker of Pulaski county, Gen. J. H. Williams of Frederick county, and D. J. Goodwin of Portsmouth were also nominated for Attorney General. All the candidates were endorsed in speeches which consumed several hours, when finally the roll of counties was ordered to be called. No choice was made by the first ballot, though Daniels lead. A number of counties changed votes solidly to Daniels, when a motion to make his nomination unanimous was carried amid great applause. Mr. Daniels accepted in a stirring speech, after which a recess was taken till 8 P. M., when the platform will be reported. The utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed during the day and the proceedings were conducted amid much enthusiasm.

Upon the re-assembling of the convention at 8.30 o'clock the committee on business, through Hon. James Barbour of Culpepper, reported the following series of resolutions on the declaration of principles, which were adopted:

First, that the contrast of the condition of Virginia under the conservative government with the condition of those southern states which have been under radical rule illustrates the wisdom of the people of Virginia in the adoption of their plan of state policy and demonstrates the necessity of continuing the powers of the state government in the control of the conservative people of the commonwealth.

Second, That the chief purpose of the Conservative party of Virginia is to secure to every citizen of this commonwealth, whether native or adopted, of the white or colored race, exact and impartial justice and to promote by wise and beneficent legislation the prosperity of our whole people.

Third, That the Conservative party of Virginia, disclaiming all purpose of captious hostility to General Grant, will judge him impartially by his official action and will cordially co-operate in ever measure of his administration which may be beneficent in its design and calculated to promote the welfare of the people and cultivate sentiments of good-will between different sections of the Union.

The fourth resolution advocates the completion of the James River and Kanawha Canal.

The fifth congratulates the state upon the progress of the free school system and advocates liberal provisions for the education of both races.

A telegram was received from Gen. Kemper accepting the nomination. The Convention adjourned sine die and was resolved into a mass meeting at 11 o'clock to allow the most prominent speakers to address the vast assemblage.

Vangard, who had previously surrendered but was rescued by his friends. The Marshal had but three men, while his opponents numbered eight.

WILMINGTON, N. C., August 7.—The election on the constitutional amendments and for township officers took place throughout the state to-day. But little interest was manifested. There was but little opposition in the majority of counties; only in a few counties where colored people predominate was there any decided effort made to defeat the amendments.

KENTUCKY.

A Dastardly Outrage.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., August 7.—Last night six disguised men entered the house of Mr. Robert Allen, a wealthy farmer living six miles from Owensboro, Kentucky. Mr. Allen and his nephew, John Allen, were awakened by the men, who at once commenced firing at them. Allen was shot in the thigh and his nephew in the breast. Both escaped to the road, where the young man's dead body was found in the morning. There is no clue to the murderers, but the whole neighborhood is aroused and a vigorous search is being prosecuted.

INDIAN TERRITORY.

A Fight with Ruffians.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., August 7.—A special dispatch to the Democrat from Venita, Indian Territory, says there was a fight on Tuesday about twenty-five miles west of there, on Verdigris Creek, caused by a party of roughs assaulting some quiet citizens and driving them and their families from home. The roughs escaped, but the pursuit was continued and at last accounts was still kept up.

VERMONT.

The Soldiers' Re-Union.

RUTLAND, Vt., August 7.—The second day of the Vermont Soldiers' Re-Union has been a grand success. A beautiful day, a large gathering of soldiers and citizens and eloquent orators have tended to put all in good humor to-night. The review of General Veazey's division to-day at Camp Doubleday by Gov. Converse took place at 2 o'clock, soon after which addresses were made by Gens. Devens, Hawley, Doubleday, Robinson, Stannard, Griffin, Sprague, Keosey and Chaplain Trumbull. The evening was given up to a grand torchlight procession, passing through the principal streets in the village. The illuminations and decorations were fine, some of them remarkably so. Among the most noticeable were the offices of the Herald and Globe, the residences of Gen. Baxter and W. C. Clement. The Herald building was pronounced by all to have been the most elaborate of any in the line of march. Great enthusiasm prevailed among the soldiers and officers in regard to this reunion. The division breaks camp to-morrow.

Gold steady, closing at 115⅛. Loans from 2 to 4. Clearings $27,000,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $213,000. Governments strong and higher. Dullness the chief characteristic of the stock market to-day; Pacific Mail was the most active, selling up to 39⅞ and closing at 39¼. The market showed considerable firmness. The only weak spot was Erie, which declined 59⅛ to 58⅞ in sympathy with the London market. Closing prices were firm.

—Prof. Wise's obituary is in type in all the well regulated newspaper offices.

—Albany complains of the many sneak-thieves, pickpockets and loose women on the People's Line of night boats plying between there and New York. The Times, of the former city, thinks a police detective aboard each trip would tend to remedy and break up these evils.

—The body of Maria Hogeboom, late of Boston Corners, which place she left several weeks ago in a deranged state of mind, was found Tuesday in Thompson's Pond, a little south of Pine Plains. A case of undoubted suicide.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

—Yesterday 58 canal boats laden with 7,355 tons of coal reached tide water at Eddyville through the Delaware & Hudson canal.

—O. Schryver, the sewing machine agent in upper Kingston, drives a most gorgeous business wagon, whereof the artistic decorator was Samuel Roosa.

—Decatur, the vegetable and fish man up town, has the handsomest market wagon that runs the streets. It looks like a circus chariot in embryo.

—Nearly all the rafters on the main portion of the new Presbyterian church were in place yesterday. The work on the edifice is being prosecuted with great vigor.

—Dressel & Co. are copper-bottoming the upper deck of their new building, on Holmes street, with tin, and "Clarkie" is making more noise over it than could a regiment of hoodlums armed each with a tin pan and a stick.

—The property on the corner of Meadow and Chamber streets, lately owned by Patrick Dillon, was sold at auction on Thursday for $3,800. Mr. James Cullen, the grocer, was the purchaser, and Mr. B. Kelly the auctioneer.

—Judging from the stench arising from the out-houses in Pine street between Maiden Lane and St. James street they are the filthiest and dirtiest in the city. To a person driving through that portion of the city during a warm evening the odor is so strong as to produce nausea.

—The rudeness of bathers on the opposite side of Rondout Creek towards evening is a source of much annoyance to ferry passengers and others in that vicinity. Evidently many thus engaged in bathing take pride in showing their nudity, until the practice has reached a pass that calls for summary abatement by the constituted authorities.

Lilliputian.

The smallest steamboat on the Hudson arrived here yesterday from Coxsackie, with a party of ladies and gentlemen, who disembarked and remained in town about two hours, when they returned home. The little steamboat was built to order expressly for pleasure purposes.—Hudson Star.

We can beat that for diminutiveness down here. There is a side-wheel steamer, complete in every particular, that will not bear the weight of a one-day old infant, and yet it navigates the waters of the Rondout creek, and tows a skiff in which are seated the engineer and pilot of the steamer. And "the little steamboat was built to order expressly for pleasure purposes."

A Silvery Surprise.

The residence of Mr. S. Weiner was the scene of a very pleasant affair on Tuesday evening. The day was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Weiner, and a number of friends arranged to give them a silver wedding, keeping the fact a secret from the couple they intended to honor. On the evening named, the party, numbering about twenty-five, presented themselves at the door and were admitted to the parlor. Mr. and Mrs. Weiner were then presented with a beautiful silver service, seven pieces in number. To say that the couple were taken by surprise is true, but inadequate to the occasion—they were completely overcome. However, they mastered their emotions and appropriately expressed their thanks. The company were then most hospitably entertained and the time passed delightfully until a fine collation was served, when with feasting, toasts, speeches, merry conversation and the et ceteras the hours sped happily by till the time of separation, when the party retired with hearty congratulations for the couple and sincere wishes that they may live in connubial happiness to see their golden and diamond weddings.

Recorder's Court.

Joseph Schilling was brought before the Court Thursday on a charge that he had been running about the streets in the lower part of the city Wednesday night in a costume that was somewhat lighter than could be even warranted by the warm state of the weather that evening. He was fined $7.55.

Next in order came Mary Schetzel, who had assaulted and beaten Emma Sickler. The prisoner gave bail.

Jacob Wolbert was next brought into court, charged with disorderly conduct. He had been drunk three weeks, and during that time was extremely offensive to his family; would take his daughter Elizabeth by the nape of the neck and throw her on the floor. He once chased John Fox with a hatchet, and had not John been provided with a good pair of legs perhaps a death would have been the result. These legs, however, he used to such good advantage Jacob concluded he would postpone making him a gory corpse until some more favorable time. Then he sailed into his wife Barbary, and made that woman foot it round the house with quicker movement than she has made for many a year. There was no doubt of the guilt of Wolbert, but the Recorder postponed sentence for a short time. He will probably be sent to the penitentiary.

Boys and Green Apples.

At this season green apples and boys can invariably be found near each other. Wherever you find a boy, look for apples; and wherever you find green apples, look for a boy, and you will not look in vain. The attraction of total depravity naturally brings these antagonistic articles together in spite of good advice and unpleasant experience. It is strange that all the knowledge that a boy is sure to get of the effects of eating green apples never does him the least good. It does not matter how much vermicular pain a boy may have under his waistcoat to-day and to-night, to-morrow you can find that same boy with his pockets stuffed full of green apples, and he eating from a particularly large one with smiling satisfaction. The doctors all say that green apples are not good for boys, and that conscientious parents should adopt some effective means to prevent sickness from this cause. The most reliable remedy yet suggested is to whip every boy that can be found two or three times a day for six weeks, commencing the first of August. Nineteen out of every twenty so whipped will be found to have apples in their pockets, and the twentieth one will be on his way after some. There will not be the least danger of whipping the wrong boy. Though this treatment is suggested by the highest authority on boys, and seems somewhat heroic as a remedy, yet it cannot be relied on as a specific; but like a poor dinner to a hungry man, it does very well.

The DeGarmo Institute.

This institution, which carries out the intention of its head, by being a school where both sexes receive a thorough education, both mental and physical, commences its fall term on Monday, September 15th. Rhinebeck, the village in which the Institute is located, is one of the prettiest in the state, and most accessible both by rail and steamboat. Mr. De Garmo, the very efficient Principal, will be assisted by a corps of able co-workers, who all unite in making the Institute as pleasant and healthful as a home as it is thorough in its mental training.

High Point Explorers.

The gentlemen who explored High Point are our uptown reporter, McD. Van Wagoner, and Joseph Hill of Olive. If any capitalist feels interested in the project of erecting a mountain house on the summit of that hightly mountain, he can learn all about the place by inquiry of those gentlemen, or better still, by taking the trip.

Fatal Accident.

Jacob D. Terhune, one of the oldest citizens of the town of Rochester, was accidentally killed at Neversink locks on Wednesday last, by falling from the deck into the hold of the canal boat on which, with his son, he was making his first trip to Honesdale. Mr. Terhune was a native of Hackensack, N. J., and removed to Accord in the town of Rochester in the year 1826. He was 74 years of age and an orderly citizen.

Work on the Light House.

The work on the new light house at the south point of the middle ground, opposite this city, is rapidly progressing under the efficient management of the Superintendent, W. W. Hegeman, Jr. The spiles are all driven and the courses of timber are ready for the stones, which are at hand. The work above water will be rapidly pushed forward, and in a few months a good substantial light will be in position.—Hudson Register.

A Lost Bark.

G. A. Stephens, proprietor of the Delaware House, Stamford, had a dog; but he has him no longer. He developed an unholy affection for young children and made a sudden exit from an unfriendly world, aided in his departure by a large charge of small shot. And at his demise there was mourning in the house of Stephens, the members thereof being irreconcilable to their loss. He received a magnificent burial and his remains were consigned to the earth amid the wailings of the assembled and sympathetic neighbors. Since then the main occupation of the railroad boys has been to comfort Stephens, and whenever the trains stop they'll run up and offer him their sympathy, and then Stephens will march off to the tap room and inquire "What is it?" and after sympathizing some more they leave, to return next trip. Stephens says his only consolation since the death of his dog is in the fact that that melancholy event has proven to him how large a number of "sympathizing" friends he has.

Lake Mohunk and Sky Top.

Paltz Point, the old and general name for the above mentioned and many other interesting spots in the immediate locality, has become an extremely popular summer resort of late, and during a brief visit there we found Mr. Smiley's Mohunk House crowded with boarders, and though the down stages carried some away, the up ones were sure to bring a new lot, while the load of trunks following in their wake showed they had come for more than a flying visit. No one acquainted with the place and its attractiveness can wonder at its popularity, for one can find a variety of scene that cannot fail to impress on the mind pleasing memories, to be recalled long after the spot has been visited. There are few more delightful places, with its wealth of beauty, sublimity and magnificent view, which embraces an immense range on every side—a feature lacking in many mountain resorts. Standing boldly erect, Sky Top rears its head high above all surrounding objects, and when the visitor has ascended to the top of the observatory that crowns its summit he cannot repress an involuntary exclamation of delight as the view spreads out before the eye. It is needless to go into the details—no description can do adequate justice, but there are points which strike one as peculiar to the place alone, which we may touch upon. There is the clear, sparkling lake lying at the foot of the cliff over which we look, a most beautiful sheet, surrounded as it is by rugged rocks and wooded shores. Its waters, smooth as glass, and presenting a transparent emerald hue even from the height from which we look down upon it, glisten in the sunlight where the rays strike it, while along the western side the high rocks throw their shadows, with suggestions of delightful rowing in the pretty boats that lay moored near the hotel. Then the gaze wanders down the gradual western slope, taking in the beautiful valley of the Rondout; on the east we look down the steeper side and the lovely Wallkill Valley lays before us. Farther off till the horizon shuts out the view a grand panorama may be seen in any direction one chooses to look, and the old soldier's exclamation as he stood on a similar peak comes to mind—"Attention, the Universe!" Descending from the observatory, the visitor can ramble at will over the rough mountain top, from the rocky points of which an endless variety of charming prospects over the near country present themselves to the vision.—The "crevice" must be visited, of course, and it is an experience to be looked back upon with mingled recollections of pleasure and "squeamishness."

Down we go from Sky Top with a rush thro' the steep, rocky, bushy, log-encumbered path, and in a few minutes stand upon the more even ground near the hotel. This building juts out over the lake, and from its front verandah the guests delight to throw crumbs of bread and cake to the greedy fish that swarm in shoals in the crystal water below. The lake has been stocked with bass, perch and pickerel and splendid fellows can be caught therefrom, while other fish also abound, among them immense eels.—We saw one big one pulled up and doubtless there are many larger. Then for rowing there can be no prettier place, with its cliffs and caverns, clear, smooth water, cool breezes and majestic surroundings. As the big rocks are reflected in the lake one calls to mind the descriptions of Mirror Lake in the Yosemite Valley. Eagle Cliff raises its rocky summit above the lake at its southern end, and from it a surpassingly lovely view can be obtained.

The Mohunk House has been greatly enlarged and improved, but the energetic proprietor keeps pace with the requirements of his fast increasing patronage, and is engaged in building still greater and improving still more. A large addition to the house is being made on the southerly side, which will be fitted up for a fine parlor and sleeping apartments. The house now accommodates about seventy-five guests; with the extension it can comfortably provide for nearly two hundred. With the addition completed the hotel will be furnished with all modern conveniences—bath rooms, hot and cold water, gas, etc., making it as complete in all its fittings as any of its kind. Around the new part a fine verandah will extend, giving a promenade three hundred feet in length, affording a most attractive lake and mountain view. The cuisine of the house is and will be kept up to first-class standard, and the universal testimony of the guests is that this department of the establishment is all that it should be.

The class of people one finds boarding at the hotel are of the more sensible portion of summer visitors, who seek this place for the quiet, pure air and enchanting scenery it affords, and not to make a display. Hence there is a pleasant social air about them and one can soon find genial and attractive companions. The house is conducted with great strictness as regards selling of beverages, not a drop of spirituous liquor being procurable on the premises. There seems to be no question but what this, in common with other mountain resorts of our county, will continue to draw great streams of summer visitors to our pleasant land, all of which will prove beneficial to the entire community.

—Newburgh people take but little stock (of belief) in the proposed Poughkeepsie bridge.

A Gluttonous Frog.

Everybody knows Smith—not John, but Fred, Johnnie Schreiber's right bower—and everybody knows he tells the truth when he once firmly makes up his mind to do so. Well, Smith went frog fishing the other day and he came back with a big frog and a bigger story. After he caught the frog he post-mortemed him and found snugly packed away in his capacious stomach a couple of ducks—not very big ducks, but young ones that the frogs had captured while they were peacefully enjoying themselves near the frog's summer resort. And now Hammersmith is jealous, and is bound to catch a frog, which, like Mark Twain's, will have some "pints" more than Smith's frog.

Personal.

On Saturday Mr. Irvin T. Bush, so well and popularly known in connection with the Opera House in this city, since its organization, severs his connection with that institution to accept an engagement with McAllister & Polley's Minstrel troupe.

The friends in this city of Lieut. Frederick A. Smith may be pleased to learn he has been appointed to the 12th U. S. Infantry, now in Arizona. The regiment had two companies engaged against the Modocs and is the one for assignment to which Lieut. Smith applied.—He is ordered to report at regimental headquarters on September 30th.

Horatio Fowks, Senior Editor of The Freeman, leaves this morning for Minnesota. He will go by the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago R. R., and will be absent about three weeks.

Our esteemed townsman John Hussey left town last evening for the sea shore, where he will spend a week or more recreating. "Jim" will run the little hat store on the corner in the meantime.

Mr. S. Weiner will leave this morning on the Mary Powell for a visit to Long Branch.

Mr. Hiram Roosa, the insurance and real estate man, has been appointed agent for the Northern Transportation Company, which does an extensive coal carrying business from this place by way of the Hudson River, Champlain Canal and Lake Champlain to Montreal.

At the regular meeting of Cornell Hose Co., held at their rooms Aug. 7, S. Mondschine was unanimously elected a member of the company.

A Frog Story.

Without a doubt, Hammersmith, as a frog hunter and catcher, is a success, but as a financier he cannot, even in the loftiest flight of fancy, be said to rival the late departed J. Fisk, Jr., even in the poorest of that magnate's speculations, as we think the following story will fully demonstrate.

Some time since the stalwart Hammersmith went on a hunt for his favorite game and returned laden with spoils. After arranging the saddles (which bear a most unpleasant resemblance to the legs and "abominable regions" of tender and diminutive infants) in a tin pail, largest ones on top and a chunk of ice over all, he walked into the gorgeous office of a well-known insurance man and offered the delicacies for sale. The price was asked, paid, and the contents of the tin pail ordered left at the residence of the insurance man, who, no doubt, indulged in pleasant anticipations of the coming banquet, for, of a truth, there were saddles enough in that tin-pail to make the heart of a Sandwich Island chief rejoice and his stomach yearn, had they been babies' instead of frogs' quarters.

In due course of events the purchaser of the frogs calmly wended his way to the feast awaiting him, and after the usual preparations seated himself at the mahogany and ordered the covers removed. A glance was cast around the board after the soup had been disposed of and the dinner arranged, but the objects of the search were not discovered; a mild inquiry was instituted as to the reason why the delicacies were not on the table, when it was revealed that instead of the fifteen or sixteen pounds which had been purchased, the child-like Hammersmith, in a fit of emotional insanity perhaps, had called at the kitchen door and deposited five or six by no means large saddles, and then, like the Arabs, silently stolen away.

The gentleman in the insurance interest is not a demonstrative man and averse to a ridiculous scene, so instead of shocking the wife of his bosom by any violent action or speech he made some casual remark and proceeded to dine with his usual enjoyment. But "still water runs deep" and "it's a long road that has no turn"—before the walnuts and the wine had been placed upon the table a scheme for the catching of the bland Hammersmith in his own trap had been concocted, and before its happy consummation our friend heard, in the most casual manner, of a similar game which the frog-hunting Ah Sin had played on a certain down-town banker in a way he despised.

We made mention in The Freeman of Thursday of the fine lot of frogs which Hammersmith had shown us and then walked off to what proved his ruin as a financier, and the consummation of the insurance man's scheme for the frog swindler's entrapment. Hammersmith walked into the gorgeous office before mentioned and removing the cover from the vessel containing the delicacies with a bon homme air remarked, "how's dot?" "Very nice," answered his supposed victim. "Do you want 'em?" "Depends on the price."—After a long winded story of how hard work it was to get them, how long it took, &c., Hammersmith said, with the air of a man making an immense sacrifice, "you can have 'em for five tollars." Calmly reaching out for the pail, which the bland frog hunter handed to him, the insurance man turned to his clerk and politely requested him to carry it to the house, have it emptied of its contents, and return.—In the meantime the frog hunter was adroitly led to discourse of his prowess as a Nimrod and disciple of the gentle Isaac Walton, and strange indeed were the tales he told, but finding a willing listener he drew the long bow with a perfectly reckless freedom until the return of the messenger with the tin-pail. Our friend of the insurance office handed the now empty vessel to Hammersmith with the remark, "there, we're square now, John," but that short-minded individual couldn't understand what was meant, until the former financial transaction was recalled; then with the startled look one might be supposed to wear while gazing on the sizzing fuse of a fifteen inch about to burst in close proximity, the frog hunter exclaimed "Z—o?"

Then a scene ensued in which no one but the outdone Hammersmith took a hand, and he went around that office like a wild man, ever and anon demanding his pay for the frogs, which, it was calmly informed him, he had.—After exhausting cajolery, threats and blasphemy to get the money, our frog-hunting Teuton finally took his departure, a sadder, and let us hope, a more honest man.

—Capt. P. H. Grady of Albany was seriously injured by missiles hurled at him by thieves and roughs accompanying the Emmet Guard, of that city, on their excursion to Prospect Grove, opposite Coxsackie, on Tuesday, while defending his property at the stables. The thieves also stole the Captain's watch, chain and ring. The ringleaders are under arrest.

—Messrs. George F. Harris & Co., contractors for the construction of the New York and Canada Railroad, have assigned their interest in the contract to Gen. A. S. Diven of Elmira, late one of the directors of the Erie, and a heavy railway contractor. A difference between the estimates and the contractors' expenses caused this failure. Gen. Diven will go on with the work.

—Goshen charges all street peddlers, except those who sell their own produce, two dollars a day.

A Novel Machine.

The Hudson Star says:

The steamer Connecticut has a novel machine for hauling in long hawsers. Instead of six or eight men pulling in the slack of these great ropes, 400 feet long, attached to a tow, the ropes are put over a windlass worked by steam. This does up the business in the shortest space of time, and without any pulling or swearing on the part of anybody. To handle ropes in this manner, when there is ice in the river, can only be appreciated by those who have frozen their hands by the old process. The Connecticut is the only boat on the river with a steam windlass. Steam windlass does the work of twenty-five men, and without any fuss or bother of any kind. Since the Connecticut was reconstructed, last winter, she has become one of the strongest and fastest steamers on the Hudson. She is the best ice boat in the world.

To the last sentence in the above item we take exceptions, for the Connecticut's owners not more than five years since tried to charter the Norwich to cut their boat out of the ice, where she was frozen in, but they didn't want to pay the price, and steamboat men say the Connecticut isn't as good an ice boat now as she was then, on account of being much lighter, stripped to tow, and having light wheels.

Arrivals at the Overlook.

AUGUST 5th and 6th, 1873.

CITY NOTES.

—Yesterday 58 canal boats laden with 7,355 tons of coal reached tide water at Eddyville through the Delaware & Hudson canal.

—O. Schryver, the sewing machine agent in upper Kingston, drives a most gorgeous business wagon, whereof the artistic decorator was Samuel Roosa.

—Decatur, the vegetable and fish man up town, has the handsomest market wagon that runs the streets. It looks like a circus chariot in embryo.

—Nearly all the rafters on the main portion of the new Presbyterian church were in place yesterday. The work on the edifice is being prosecuted with great vigor.

—Dressel & Co. are copper-bottoming the upper deck of their new building, on Holmes street, with tin, and "Clarkie" is making more noise over it than could a regiment of hoodlums armed each with a tin pan and a stick.

—The property on the corner of Meadow and Chamber streets, lately owned by Patrick Dillon, was sold at auction on Thursday for $3,800. Mr. James Cullen, the grocer, was the purchaser, and Mr. B. Kelly the auctioneer.

—Judging from the stench arising from the out-houses in Pine street between Maiden Lane and St. James street they are the filthiest and dirtiest in the city. To a person driving through that portion of the city during a warm evening the odor is so strong as to produce nausea.

—The rudeness of bathers on the opposite side of Rondout Creek towards evening is a source of much annoyance to ferry passengers and others in that vicinity. Evidently many thus engaged in bathing take pride in showing their nudity, until the practice has reached a pass that calls for summary abatement by the constituted authorities.

Lilliputian.

The smallest steamboat on the Hudson arrived here yesterday from Coxsackie, with a party of ladies and gentlemen, who disembarked and remained in town about two hours, when they returned home. The little steamboat was built to order expressly for pleasure purposes.—Hudson Star.

We can beat that for diminutiveness down here. There is a side-wheel steamer, complete in every particular, that will not bear the weight of a one-day old infant, and yet it navigates the waters of the Rondout creek, and tows a skiff in which are seated the engineer and pilot of the steamer. And "the little steamboat was built to order expressly for pleasure purposes."

A Silvery Surprise.

The residence of Mr. S. Weiner was the scene of a very pleasant affair on Tuesday evening. The day was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Weiner, and a number of friends arranged to give them a silver wedding, keeping the fact a secret from the couple they intended to honor. On the evening named, the party, numbering about twenty-five, presented themselves at the door and were admitted to the parlor. Mr. and Mrs. Weiner were then presented with a beautiful silver service, seven pieces in number. To say that the couple were taken by surprise is true, but inadequate to the occasion—they were completely overcome. However, they mastered their emotions and appropriately expressed their thanks. The company were then most hospitably entertained and the time passed delightfully until a fine collation was served, when with feasting, toasts, speeches, merry conversation and the et ceteras the hours sped happily by till the time of separation, when the party retired with hearty congratulations for the couple and sincere wishes that they may live in connubial happiness to see their golden and diamond weddings.

Recorder's Court.

Joseph Schilling was brought before the Court Thursday on a charge that he had been running about the streets in the lower part of the city Wednesday night in a costume that was somewhat lighter than could be even warranted by the warm state of the weather that evening. He was fined $7.55.

Next in order came Mary Schetzel, who had assaulted and beaten Emma Sickler. The prisoner gave bail.

Jacob Wolbert was next brought into court, charged with disorderly conduct. He had been drunk three weeks, and during that time was extremely offensive to his family; would take his daughter Elizabeth by the nape of the neck and throw her on the floor. He once chased John Fox with a hatchet, and had not John been provided with a good pair of legs perhaps a death would have been the result. These legs, however, he used to such good advantage Jacob concluded he would postpone making him a gory corpse until some more favorable time. Then he sailed into his wife Barbary, and made that woman foot it round the house with quicker movement than she has made for many a year. There was no doubt of the guilt of Wolbert, but the Recorder postponed sentence for a short time. He will probably be sent to the penitentiary.

Boys and Green Apples.

At this season green apples and boys can invariably be found near each other. Wherever you find a boy, look for apples; and wherever you find green apples, look for a boy, and you will not look in vain. The attraction of total depravity naturally brings these antagonistic articles together in spite of good advice and unpleasant experience. It is strange that all the knowledge that a boy is sure to get of the effects of eating green apples never does him the least good. It does not matter how much vermicular pain a boy may have under his waistcoat to-day and to-night, to-morrow you can find that same boy with his pockets stuffed full of green apples, and he eating from a particularly large one with smiling satisfaction. The doctors all say that green apples are not good for boys, and that conscientious parents should adopt some effective means to prevent sickness from this cause. The most reliable remedy yet suggested is to whip every boy that can be found two or three times a day for six weeks, commencing the first of August. Nineteen out of every twenty so whipped will be found to have apples in their pockets, and the twentieth one will be on his way after some. There will not be the least danger of whipping the wrong boy. Though this treatment is suggested by the highest authority on boys, and seems somewhat heroic as a remedy, yet it cannot be relied on as a specific; but like a poor dinner to a hungry man, it does very well.

The DeGarmo Institute.

This institution, which carries out the intention of its head, by being a school where both sexes receive a thorough education, both mental and physical, commences its fall term on Monday, September 15th. Rhinebeck, the village in which the Institute is located, is one of the prettiest in the state, and most accessible both by rail and steamboat. Mr. De Garmo, the very efficient Principal, will be assisted by a corps of able co-workers, who all unite in making the Institute as pleasant and healthful as a home as it is thorough in its mental training.

High Point Explorers.

The gentlemen who explored High Point are our uptown reporter, McD. Van Wagoner, and Joseph Hill of Olive. If any capitalist feels interested in the project of erecting a mountain house on the summit of that hightly mountain, he can learn all about the place by inquiry of those gentlemen, or better still, by taking the trip.

Fatal Accident.

Jacob D. Terhune, one of the oldest citizens of the town of Rochester, was accidentally killed at Neversink locks on Wednesday last, by falling from the deck into the hold of the canal boat on which, with his son, he was making his first trip to Honesdale. Mr. Terhune was a native of Hackensack, N. J., and removed to Accord in the town of Rochester in the year 1826. He was 74 years of age and an orderly citizen.

Work on the Light House.

The work on the new light house at the south point of the middle ground, opposite this city, is rapidly progressing under the efficient management of the Superintendent, W. W. Hegeman, Jr. The spiles are all driven and the courses of timber are ready for the stones, which are at hand. The work above water will be rapidly pushed forward, and in a few months a good substantial light will be in position.—Hudson Register.

A Lost Bark.

G. A. Stephens, proprietor of the Delaware House, Stamford, had a dog; but he has him no longer. He developed an unholy affection for young children and made a sudden exit from an unfriendly world, aided in his departure by a large charge of small shot. And at his demise there was mourning in the house of Stephens, the members thereof being irreconcilable to their loss. He received a magnificent burial and his remains were consigned to the earth amid the wailings of the assembled and sympathetic neighbors. Since then the main occupation of the railroad boys has been to comfort Stephens, and whenever the trains stop they'll run up and offer him their sympathy, and then Stephens will march off to the tap room and inquire "What is it?" and after sympathizing some more they leave, to return next trip. Stephens says his only consolation since the death of his dog is in the fact that that melancholy event has proven to him how large a number of "sympathizing" friends he has.

Lake Mohunk and Sky Top.

Paltz Point, the old and general name for the above mentioned and many other interesting spots in the immediate locality, has become an extremely popular summer resort of late, and during a brief visit there we found Mr. Smiley's Mohunk House crowded with boarders, and though the down stages carried some away, the up ones were sure to bring a new lot, while the load of trunks following in their wake showed they had come for more than a flying visit. No one acquainted with the place and its attractiveness can wonder at its popularity, for one can find a variety of scene that cannot fail to impress on the mind pleasing memories, to be recalled long after the spot has been visited. There are few more delightful places, with its wealth of beauty, sublimity and magnificent view, which embraces an immense range on every side—a feature lacking in many mountain resorts. Standing boldly erect, Sky Top rears its head high above all surrounding objects, and when the visitor has ascended to the top of the observatory that crowns its summit he cannot repress an involuntary exclamation of delight as the view spreads out before the eye. It is needless to go into the details—no description can do adequate justice, but there are points which strike one as peculiar to the place alone, which we may touch upon. There is the clear, sparkling lake lying at the foot of the cliff over which we look, a most beautiful sheet, surrounded as it is by rugged rocks and wooded shores. Its waters, smooth as glass, and presenting a transparent emerald hue even from the height from which we look down upon it, glisten in the sunlight where the rays strike it, while along the western side the high rocks throw their shadows, with suggestions of delightful rowing in the pretty boats that lay moored near the hotel. Then the gaze wanders down the gradual western slope, taking in the beautiful valley of the Rondout; on the east we look down the steeper side and the lovely Wallkill Valley lays before us. Farther off till the horizon shuts out the view a grand panorama may be seen in any direction one chooses to look, and the old soldier's exclamation as he stood on a similar peak comes to mind—"Attention, the Universe!" Descending from the observatory, the visitor can ramble at will over the rough mountain top, from the rocky points of which an endless variety of charming prospects over the near country present themselves to the vision.—The "crevice" must be visited, of course, and it is an experience to be looked back upon with mingled recollections of pleasure and "squeamishness."

Down we go from Sky Top with a rush thro' the steep, rocky, bushy, log-encumbered path, and in a few minutes stand upon the more even ground near the hotel. This building juts out over the lake, and from its front verandah the guests delight to throw crumbs of bread and cake to the greedy fish that swarm in shoals in the crystal water below. The lake has been stocked with bass, perch and pickerel and splendid fellows can be caught therefrom, while other fish also abound, among them immense eels.—We saw one big one pulled up and doubtless there are many larger. Then for rowing there can be no prettier place, with its cliffs and caverns, clear, smooth water, cool breezes and majestic surroundings. As the big rocks are reflected in the lake one calls to mind the descriptions of Mirror Lake in the Yosemite Valley. Eagle Cliff raises its rocky summit above the lake at its southern end, and from it a surpassingly lovely view can be obtained.

The Mohunk House has been greatly enlarged and improved, but the energetic proprietor keeps pace with the requirements of his fast increasing patronage, and is engaged in building still greater and improving still more. A large addition to the house is being made on the southerly side, which will be fitted up for a fine parlor and sleeping apartments. The house now accommodates about seventy-five guests; with the extension it can comfortably provide for nearly two hundred. With the addition completed the hotel will be furnished with all modern conveniences—bath rooms, hot and cold water, gas, etc., making it as complete in all its fittings as any of its kind. Around the new part a fine verandah will extend, giving a promenade three hundred feet in length, affording a most attractive lake and mountain view. The cuisine of the house is and will be kept up to first-class standard, and the universal testimony of the guests is that this department of the establishment is all that it should be.

The class of people one finds boarding at the hotel are of the more sensible portion of summer visitors, who seek this place for the quiet, pure air and enchanting scenery it affords, and not to make a display. Hence there is a pleasant social air about them and one can soon find genial and attractive companions. The house is conducted with great strictness as regards selling of beverages, not a drop of spirituous liquor being procurable on the premises. There seems to be no question but what this, in common with other mountain resorts of our county, will continue to draw great streams of summer visitors to our pleasant land, all of which will prove beneficial to the entire community.

—Newburgh people take but little stock (of belief) in the proposed Poughkeepsie bridge.

A Gluttonous Frog.

Everybody knows Smith—not John, but Fred, Johnnie Schreiber's right bower—and everybody knows he tells the truth when he once firmly makes-up his mind to do so. Well, Smith went frog fishing the other day and he came back with a big frog and a bigger story. After he caught the frog he post-mortemed him and found snugly packed away in his capacious stomach a couple of ducks—not very big ducks, but young ones that the frogs had captured while they were peacefully enjoying themselves near the frog's summer resort. And now Hammersmith is jealous, and is bound to catch a frog, which, like Mark Twain's, will have some "pints" more than Smith's frog.

Personal.

On Saturday Mr. Irvin T. Bush, so well and popularly known in connection with the Opera House in this city, since its organization, severs his connection with that institution to accept an engagement with McAllister & Polley's Minstrel troupe.

The friends in this city of Lieut. Frederick A. Smith may be pleased to learn he has been appointed to the 12th U. S. Infantry, now in Arizona. The regiment had two companies engaged against the Modocs and is the one for assignment to which Lieut. Smith applied.—He is ordered to report at regimental headquarters on September 30th.

Mr. S. Weiner will leave this morning on the Mary Powell for a visit to Long Branch.

Mr. Hiram Roosa, the insurance and real estate man, has been appointed agent for the Northern Transportation Company, which does an extensive coal carrying business from this place by way of the Hudson River, Champlain Canal and Lake Champlain to Montreal.

At the regular meeting of Cornell Hose Co., held at their rooms Aug. 7, S. Mondschine was unanimously elected a member of the company.

A Frog Story.

Without a doubt, Hammersmith, as a frog hunter and catcher, is a success, but as a financier he cannot, even in the loftiest flight of fancy, be said to rival the late departed J. Fisk, Jr., even in the poorest of that magnate's speculations, as we think the following story will fully demonstrate.

Some time since the stalwart Hammersmith went on a hunt for his favorite game and returned laden with spoils. After arranging the saddles (which bear a most unpleasant resemblance to the legs and "abominable regions" of tender and diminutive infants) in a tin pail, largest ones on top and a chunk of ice over all, he walked into the gorgeous office of a well-known insurance man and offered the delicacies for sale. The price was asked, paid, and the contents of the tin pail ordered left at the residence of the insurance man, who, no doubt, indulged in pleasant anticipations of the coming banquet, for, of a truth, there were saddles enough in that tin-pail to make the heart of a Sandwich Island chief rejoice and his stomach yearn, had they been babies' instead of frogs' quarters.

In due course of events the purchaser of the frogs calmly wended his way to the feast awaiting him, and after the usual preparations seated himself at the mahogany and ordered the covers removed. A glance was cast around the board after the soup had been disposed of and the dinner arranged, but the objects of the search were not discovered; a mild inquiry was instituted as to the reason why the delicacies were not on the table, when it was revealed that instead of the fifteen or sixteen pounds which had been purchased, the child-like Hammersmith, in a fit of emotional insanity perhaps, had called at the kitchen door and deposited five or six by no means large saddles, and then, like the Arabs, silently stolen away.

The gentleman in the insurance interest is not a demonstrative man and averse to a ridiculous scene, so instead of shocking the wife of his bosom by any violent action or speech he made some casual remark and proceeded to dine with his usual enjoyment. But "still water runs deep" and "it's a long road that has no turn"—before the walnuts and the wine had been placed upon the table a scheme for the catching of the bland Hammersmith in his own trap had been concocted, and before its happy consummation our friend heard, in the most casual manner, of a similar game which the frog-hunting Ah Sin had played on a certain down-town banker in a way he despised.

We made mention in The Freeman of Thursday of the fine lot of frogs which Hammersmith had shown us and then walked off to what proved his ruin as a financier, and the consummation of the insurance man's scheme for the frog swindler's entrapment. Hammersmith walked into the gorgeous office before mentioned and removing the cover from the vessel containing the delicacies with a bon homme air remarked, "how's dot?" "Very nice," answered his supposed victim. "Do you want 'em?" "Depends on the price."—After a long winded story of how hard work it was to get them, how long it took, &c., Hammersmith said, with the air of a man making an immense sacrifice, "you can have 'em for five tollars." Calmly reaching out for the pail, which the bland frog hunter handed to him, the insurance man turned to his clerk and politely requested him to carry it to the house, have it emptied of its contents, and return.—In the meantime the frog hunter was adroitly led to discourse of his prowess as a Nimrod and disciple of the gentle Isaac Walton, and strange indeed were the tales he told, but finding a willing listener he drew the long bow with a perfectly reckless freedom until the return of the messenger with the tin-pail. Our friend of the insurance office handed the now empty vessel to Hammersmith with the remark, "there, we're square now, John," but that short-minded individual couldn't understand what was meant, until the former financial transaction was recalled; then with the startled look one might be supposed to wear while gazing on the sizzing fuse of a fifteen inch about to burst in close proximity, the frog hunter exclaimed "Z—o?"

Then a scene ensued in which no one but the outdone Hammersmith took a hand, and he went around that office like a wild man, ever and anon demanding his pay for the frogs, which, it was calmly informed him, he had.—After exhausting cajolery, threats and blasphemy to get the money, our frog-hunting Teuton finally took his departure, a sadder, and let us hope, a more honest man.

—Capt. P. H. Grady of Albany was seriously injured by missiles hurled at him by thieves and roughs accompanying the Emmet Guard, of that city, on their excursion to Prospect Grove, opposite Coxsackie, on Tuesday, while defending his property at the stables. The thieves also stole the Captain's watch, chain and ring. The ringleaders are under arrest.

—Messrs. George F. Harris & Co., contractors for the construction of the New York and Canada Railroad, have assigned their interest in the contract to Gen. A. S. Diven of Elmira, late one of the directors of the Erie, and a heavy railway contractor. A difference between the estimates and the contractors' expenses caused this failure. Gen. Diven will go on with the work.

—Goshen charges all street peddlers, except those who sell their own produce, two dollars a day.

A Novel Machine.

The Hudson Star says:

The steamer Connecticut has a novel machine for hauling in long hawsers. Instead of six or eight men pulling in the slack of these great ropes, 400 feet long, attached to a tow, the ropes are put over a windlass worked by steam. This does up the business in the shortest space of time, and without any pulling or swearing on the part of anybody. To handle ropes in this manner, when there is ice in the river, can only be appreciated by those who have frozen their hands by the old process. The Connecticut is the only boat on the river with a steam windlass. Steam windlass does the work of twenty-five men, and without any fuss or bother of any kind. Since the Connecticut was reconstructed, last winter, she has become one of the strongest and fastest steamers on the Hudson. She is the best ice boat in the world.

To the last sentence in the above item we take exceptions, for the Connecticut's owners not more than five years since tried to charter the Norwich to cut their boat out of the ice, where she was frozen in, but they didn't want to pay the price, and steamboat men say the Connecticut isn't as good an ice boat now as she was then, on account of being much lighter, stripped to tow, and having light wheels.

CITY NOTES.

—Yesterday 58 canal boats laden with 7,355 tons of coal reached tide water at Eddyville through the Delaware & Hudson canal.

—O. Schryver, the sewing machine agent in upper Kingston, drives a most gorgeous business wagon, whereof the artistic decorator was Samuel Roosa.

—Decatur, the vegetable and fish man up town, has the handsomest market wagon that runs the streets. It looks like a circus chariot in embryo.

—Nearly all the rafters on the main portion of the new Presbyterian church were in place yesterday. The work on the edifice is being prosecuted with great vigor.

—Dressel & Co. are copper-bottoming the upper deck of their new building, on Holmes street, with tin, and "Clarkie" is making more noise over it than could a regiment of hoodlums armed each with a tin pan and a stick.

—The property on the corner of Meadow and Chamber streets, lately owned by Patrick Dillon, was sold at auction on Thursday for $3,800. Mr. James Cullen, the grocer, was the purchaser, and Mr. B. Kelly the auctioneer.

—Judging from the stench arising from the out-houses in Pine street between Maiden Lane and St. James street they are the filthiest and dirtiest in the city. To a person driving through that portion of the city during a warm evening the odor is so strong as to produce nausea.

—The rudeness of bathers on the opposite side of Rondout Creek towards evening is a source of much annoyance to ferry passengers and others in that vicinity. Evidently many thus engaged in bathing take pride in showing their nudity, until the practice has reached a pass that calls for summary abatement by the constituted authorities.

Lilliputian.

The smallest steamboat on the Hudson arrived here yesterday from Coxsackie, with a party of ladies and gentlemen, who disembarked and remained in town about two hours, when they returned home. The little steamboat was built to order expressly for pleasure purposes.—Hudson Star.

We can beat that for diminutiveness down here. There is a side-wheel steamer, complete in every particular, that will not bear the weight of a one-day old infant, and yet it navigates the waters of the Rondout creek, and tows a skiff in which are seated the engineer and pilot of the steamer. And "the little steamboat was built to order expressly for pleasure purposes."

A Silvery Surprise.

The residence of Mr. S. Weiner was the scene of a very pleasant affair on Tuesday evening. The day was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Weiner, and a number of friends arranged to give them a silver wedding, keeping the fact a secret from the couple they intended to honor. On the evening named, the party, numbering about twenty-five, presented themselves at the door and were admitted to the parlor. Mr. and Mrs. Weiner were then presented with a beautiful silver service, seven pieces in number. To say that the couple were taken by surprise is true, but inadequate to the occasion—they were completely overcome. However, they mastered their emotions and appropriately expressed their thanks. The company were then most hospitably entertained and the time passed delightfully until a fine collation was served, when with feasting, toasts, speeches, merry conversation and the et ceteras the hours sped happily by till the time of separation, when the party retired with hearty congratulations for the couple and sincere wishes that they may live in connubial happiness to see their golden and diamond weddings.

Recorder's Court.

Joseph Schilling was brought before the Court Thursday on a charge that he had been running about the streets in the lower part of the city Wednesday night in a costume that was somewhat lighter than could be even warranted by the warm state of the weather that evening. He was fined $7.55.

Next in order came Mary Schetzel, who had assaulted and beaten Emma Sickler. The prisoner gave bail.

Jacob Wolbert was next brought into court, charged with disorderly conduct. He had been drunk three weeks, and during that time was extremely offensive to his family; would take his daughter Elizabeth by the nape of the neck and throw her on the floor. He once chased John Fox with a hatchet, and had not John been provided with a good pair of legs perhaps a death would have been the result. These legs, however, he used to such good advantage Jacob concluded he would postpone making him a gory corpse until some more favorable time. Then he sailed into his wife Barbary, and made that woman foot it round the house with quicker movement than she has made for many a year. There was no doubt of the guilt of Wolbert, but the Recorder postponed sentence for a short time. He will probably be sent to the penitentiary.

Boys and Green Apples.

At this season green apples and boys can invariably be found near each other. Wherever you find a boy, look for apples; and wherever you find green apples, look for a boy, and you will not look in vain. The attraction of total depravity naturally brings these antagonistic articles together in spite of good advice and unpleasant experience. It is strange that all the knowledge that a boy is sure to get of the effects of eating green apples never does him the least good. It does not matter how much vermicular pain a boy may have under his waistcoat to-day and to-night, to-morrow you can find that same boy with his pockets stuffed full of green apples, and he eating from a particularly large one with smiling satisfaction. The doctors all say that green apples are not good for boys, and that conscientious parents should adopt some effective means to prevent sickness from this cause. The most reliable remedy yet suggested is to whip every boy that can be found two or three times a day for six weeks, commencing the first of August. Nineteen out of every twenty so whipped will be found to have apples in their pockets, and the twentieth one will be on his way after some. There will not be the least danger of whipping the wrong boy. Though this treatment is suggested by the highest authority on boys, and seems somewhat heroic as a remedy, yet it cannot be relied on as a specific; but like a poor dinner to a hungry man, it does very well.

The DeGarmo Institute.

This institution, which carries out the intention of its head, by being a school where both sexes receive a thorough education, both mental and physical, commences its fall term on Monday, September 15th. Rhinebeck, the village in which the Institute is located, is one of the prettiest in the state, and most accessible both by rail and steamboat. Mr. De Garmo, the very efficient Principal, will be assisted by a corps of able co-workers, who all unite in making the Institute as pleasant and healthful as a home as it is thorough in its mental training.

High Point Explorers.

The gentlemen who explored High Point are our uptown reporter, McD. Van Wagoner, and Joseph Hill of Olive. If any capitalist feels interested in the project of erecting a mountain house on the summit of that highly mountain, he can learn all about the place by inquiry of those gentlemen, or better still, by taking the trip.

Fatal Accident.

Jacob D. Terhune, one of the oldest citizens of the town of Rochester, was accidentally killed at Neversink locks on Wednesday last, by falling from the deck into the hold of the canal boat on which, with his son, he was making his first trip to Honesdale. Mr. Terhune was a native of Hackensack, N. J., and removed to Accord in the town of Rochester in the year 1826. He was 74 years of age and an orderly citizen.

Work on the Light House.

The work on the new light house at the south point of the middle ground, opposite this city, is rapidly progressing under the efficient management of the Superintendent, W. W. Hegeman, Jr. The spiles are all driven and the courses of timber are ready for the stones, which are at hand. The work above water will be rapidly pushed forward, and in a few months a good substantial light will be in position.—Hudson Register.

A Lost Bark.

G. A. Stephens, proprietor of the Delaware House, Stamford, had a dog; but he has him no longer. He developed an unholy affection for young children and made a sudden exit from an unfriendly world, aided in his departure by a large charge of small shot. And at his demise there was mourning in the house of Stephens, the members thereof being irreconcilable to their loss. He received a magnificent burial and his remains were consigned to the earth amid the wailings of the assembled and sympathetic neighbors. Since then the main occupation of the railroad boys has been to comfort Stephens, and whenever the trains stop they'll run up and offer him their sympathy, and then Stephens will march off to the tap room and inquire "What is it?" and after sympathizing some more they leave, to return next trip. Stephens says his only consolation since the death of his dog is in the fact that that melancholy event has proven to him how large a number of "sympathizing" friends he has.

Lake Mohunk and Sky Top.

Paltz Point, the old and general name for the above mentioned and many other interesting spots in the immediate locality, has become an extremely popular summer resort of late, and during a brief visit there we found Mr. Smiley's Mohunk House crowded with boarders, and though the down stages carried some away, the up ones were sure to bring a new lot, while the load of trunks following in their wake showed they had come for more than a flying visit. No one acquainted with the place and its attractiveness can wonder at its popularity, for one can find a variety of scene that cannot fail to impress on the mind pleasing memories, to be recalled long after the spot has been visited. There are few more delightful places, with its wealth of beauty, sublimity and magnificent view, which embraces an immense range on every side—a feature lacking in many mountain resorts. Standing boldly erect, Sky Top rears its head high above all surrounding objects, and when the visitor has ascended to the top of the observatory that crowns its summit he cannot repress an involuntary exclamation of delight as the view spreads out before the eye. It is needless to go into the details—no description can do adequate justice, but there are points which strike one as peculiar to the place alone, which we may touch upon. There is the clear, sparkling lake lying at the foot of the cliff over which we look, a most beautiful sheet, surrounded as it is by rugged rocks and wooded shores. Its waters, smooth as glass, and presenting a transparent emerald hue even from the height from which we look down upon it, glisten in the sunlight where the rays strike it, while along the western side the high rocks throw their shadows, with suggestions of delightful rowing in the pretty boats that lay moored near the hotel. Then the gaze wanders down the gradual western slope, taking in the beautiful valley of the Rondout; on the east we look down the steeper side and the lovely Wallkill Valley lays before us. Farther off till the horizon shuts out the view a grand panorama may be seen in any direction one chooses to look, and the old soldier's exclamation as he stood on a similar peak comes to mind—"Attention, the Universe!" Descending from the observatory, the visitor can ramble at will over the rough mountain top, from the rocky points of which an endless variety of charming prospects over the near country present themselves to the vision.—The "crevice" must be visited, of course, and it is an experience to be looked back upon with mingled recollections of pleasure and "squeamishness."

Down we go from Sky Top with a rush thro' the steep, rocky, bushy, log-encumbered path, and in a few minutes stand upon the more even ground near the hotel. This building juts out over the lake, and from its front verandah the guests delight to throw crumbs of bread and cake to the greedy fish that swarm in shoals in the crystal water below. The lake has been stocked with bass, perch and pickerel and splendid fellows can be caught therefrom, while other fish also abound, among them immense eels.—We saw one big one pulled up and doubtless there are many larger. Then for rowing there can be no prettier place, with its cliffs and caverns, clear, smooth water, cool breezes and majestic surroundings. As the big rocks are reflected in the lake one calls to mind the descriptions of Mirror Lake in the Yosemite Valley. Eagle Cliff raises its rocky summit above the lake at its southern end, and from it a surpassingly lovely view can be obtained.

The Mohunk House has been greatly enlarged and improved, but the energetic proprietor keeps pace with the requirements of his fast increasing patronage, and is engaged in building still greater and improving still more. A large addition to the house is being made on the southerly side, which will be fitted up for a fine parlor and sleeping apartments. The house now accommodates about seventy-five guests; with the extension it can comfortably provide for nearly two hundred. With the addition completed the hotel will be furnished with all modern conveniences—bath rooms, hot and cold water, gas, etc., making it as complete in all its fittings as any of its kind. Around the new part a fine verandah will extend, giving a promenade three hundred feet in length, affording a most attractive lake and mountain view. The cuisine of the house is and will be kept up to first-class standard, and the universal testimony of the guests is that this department of the establishment is all that it should be.

The class of people one finds boarding at the hotel are of the more sensible portion of summer visitors, who seek this place for the quiet, pure air and enchanting scenery it affords, and not to make a display. Hence there is a pleasant social air about them and one can soon find genial and attractive companions. The house is conducted with great strictness as regards selling of beverages, not a drop of spirituous liquor being procurable on the premises. There seems to be no question but what this, in common with other mountain resorts of our county, will continue to draw great streams of summer visitors to our pleasant land, all of which will prove beneficial to the entire community.

—Newburgh people take but little stock (of belief) in the proposed Poughkeepsie bridge.

A Gluttonous Frog.

Everybody knows Smith—not John, but Fred, Johnnie Schreiber's right bower—and everybody knows he tells the truth when he once firmly makes-up his mind to do so. Well, Smith went frog fishing the other day and he came back with a big frog and a bigger story. After he caught the frog he post-mortemed him and found snugly packed away in his capacious stomach a couple of ducks—not very big ducks, but young ones that the frogs had captured while they were peacefully enjoying themselves near the frog's summer resort. And now Hammersmith is jealous, and is bound to catch a frog, which, like Mark Twain's, will have some "pints" more than Smith's frog.

Personal.

On Saturday Mr. Irvin T. Bush, so well and popularly known in connection with the Opera House in this city, since its organization, severs his connection with that institution to accept an engagement with McAllister & Polley's Minstrel troupe.

The friends in this city of Lieut. Frederick A. Smith may be pleased to learn he has been appointed to the 12th U. S. Infantry, now in Arizona. The regiment had two companies engaged against the Modocs and is the one for assignment to which Lieut. Smith applied.—He is ordered to report at regimental headquarters on September 30th.

Horatio Fowks, Senior Editor of The Freeman, leaves this morning for Minnesota. He will go by the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago R. R., and will be absent about three weeks.

Our esteemed townsman John Hussey left town last evening for the sea shore, where he will spend a week or more recreating. "Jim" will run the little hat store on the corner in the meantime.

Mr. S. Weiner will leave this morning on the Mary Powell for a visit to Long Branch.

Mr. Hiram Roosa, the insurance and real estate man, has been appointed agent for the Northern Transportation Company, which does an extensive coal carrying business from this place by way of the Hudson River, Champlain Canal and Lake Champlain to Montreal.

At the regular meeting of Cornell Hose Co., held at their rooms Aug. 7, S. Mondschine was unanimously elected a member of the company.

A Frog Story.

Without a doubt, Hammersmith, as a frog hunter and catcher, is a success, but as a financier he cannot, even in the loftiest flight of fancy, be said to rival the late departed J. Fisk, Jr., even in the poorest of that magnate's speculations, as we think the following story will fully demonstrate.

Some time since the stalwart Hammersmith went on a hunt for his favorite game and returned laden with spoils. After arranging the saddles (which bear a most unpleasant resemblance to the legs and "abominable regions" of tender and diminutive infants) in a tin pail, largest ones on top and a chunk of ice over all, he walked into the gorgeous office of a well-known insurance man and offered the delicacies for sale. The price was asked, paid, and the contents of the tin pail ordered left at the residence of the insurance man, who, no doubt, indulged in pleasant anticipations of the coming banquet, for, of a truth, there were saddles enough in that tin-pail to make the heart of a Sandwich Island chief rejoice and his stomach yearn, had they been babies' instead of frogs' quarters.

In due course of events the purchaser of the frogs calmly wended his way to the feast awaiting him, and after the usual preparations seated himself at the mahogany and ordered the covers removed. A glance was cast around the board after the soup had been disposed of and the dinner arranged, but the objects of the search were not discovered; a mild inquiry was instituted as to the reason why the delicacies were not on the table, when it was revealed that instead of the fifteen or sixteen pounds which had been purchased, the child-like Hammersmith, in a fit of emotional insanity perhaps, had called at the kitchen door and deposited five or six by no means large saddles, and then, like the Arabs, silently stolen away.

The gentleman in the insurance interest is not a demonstrative man and averse to a ridiculous scene, so instead of shocking the wife of his bosom by any violent action or speech he made some casual remark and proceeded to dine with his usual enjoyment. But "still water runs deep" and "it's a long road that has no turn"—before the walnuts and the wine had been placed upon the table a scheme for the catching of the bland Hammersmith in his own trap had been concocted, and before its happy consummation our friend heard, in the most casual manner, of a similar game which the frog-hunting Ah Sin had played on a certain down-town banker in a way he despised.

We made mention in The Freeman of Thursday of the fine lot of frogs which Hammersmith had shown us and then walked off to what proved his ruin as a financier, and the consummation of the insurance man's scheme for the frog swindler's entrapment. Hammersmith walked into the gorgeous office before mentioned and removing the cover from the vessel containing the delicacies with a bon homme air remarked, "how's dot?" "Very nice," answered his supposed victim. "Do you want 'em?" "Depends on the price."—After a long winded story of how hard work it was to get them, how long it took, &c., Hammersmith said, with the air of a man making an immense sacrifice, "you can have 'em for five tollars." Calmly reaching out for the pail, which the bland frog hunter handed to him, the insurance man turned to his clerk and politely requested him to carry it to the house, have it emptied of its contents, and return.—In the meantime the frog hunter was adroitly led to discourse of his prowess as a Nimrod and disciple of the gentle Isaac Walton, and strange indeed were the tales he told, but finding a willing listener he drew the long bow with a perfectly reckless freedom until the return of the messenger with the tin-pail. Our friend of the insurance office handed the now empty vessel to Hammersmith with the remark, "there, we're square now, John," but that short-minded individual couldn't understand what was meant, until the former financial transaction was recalled; then with the startled look one might be supposed to wear while gazing on the sizzing fuse of a fifteen inch about to burst in close proximity, the frog hunter exclaimed "Z—o?"

Then a scene ensued in which no one but the outdone Hammersmith took a hand, and he went around that office like a wild man, ever and anon demanding his pay for the frogs, which, it was calmly informed him, he had.—After exhausting cajolery, threats and blasphemy to get the money, our frog-hunting Teuton finally took his departure, a sadder, and let us hope, a more honest man.

—Capt. P. H. Grady of Albany was seriously injured by missiles hurled at him by thieves and roughs accompanying the Emmet Guard, of that city, on their excursion to Prospect Grove, opposite Coxsackie, on Tuesday, while defending his property at the stables. The thieves also stole the Captain's watch, chain and ring. The ringleaders are under arrest.

—Messrs. George F. Harris & Co., contractors for the construction of the New York and Canada Railroad, have assigned their interest in the contract to Gen. A. S. Diven of Elmira, late one of the directors of the Erie, and a heavy railway contractor. A difference between the estimates and the contractors' expenses caused this failure. Gen. Diven will go on with the work.

—Goshen charges all street peddlers, except those who sell their own produce, two dollars a day.

A Novel Machine.

The Hudson Star says:

The steamer Connecticut has a novel machine for hauling in long hawsers. Instead of six or eight men pulling in the slack of these great ropes, 400 feet long, attached to a tow, the ropes are put over a windlass worked by steam. This does up the business in the shortest space of time, and without any pulling or swearing on the part of anybody. To handle ropes in this manner, when there is ice in the river, can only be appreciated by those who have frozen their hands by the old process. The Connecticut is the only boat on the river with a steam windlass. Steam windlass does the work of twenty-five men, and without any fuss or bother of any kind. Since the Connecticut was reconstructed, last winter, she has become one of the strongest and fastest steamers on the Hudson. She is the best ice boat in the world.

To the last sentence in the above item we take exceptions, for the Connecticut's owners not more than five years since tried to charter the Norwich to cut their boat out of the ice, where she was frozen in, but they didn't want to pay the price, and steamboat men say the Connecticut isn't as good an ice boat now as she was then, on account of being much lighter, stripped to tow, and having light wheels.

—The Delaware Gazette applies some catechising queries and answers to Delhi—the gist of which is that the village needs manufactories, and promoted facilities to take the products to market.

—A horned frog, a native of Mexico, has arrived in Albany from Matamoras, by mail, at a cost of six cents. He soon recovered his usual equanimity upon a diet of flies, and is well and active.

—The Poughkeepsie News says that the Messrs. Larrabee's traveling agent, Mr. Uline, again dispatched two carrier pigeons from that city to Albany on Wednesday. They started at 9 and 9:30 A. M. respectively, and arrived at 10:27 and 11:10 A. M. in regular order. Lively flying that!

Handling a Snapping Turtle by the Wrong End.

A man named Gilsey, who by strict economy and severe industry, has succeeded in getting his family a little place, free of incumbrance, was fishing in Still river near the Beaver Brook mills, on Sunday afternoon. After sitting on the bank for a couple of hours, without catching anything, he was gratified to see, on a flat stone in the water, a snapping turtle sunning itself. The but-end of the turtle was toward him, and he thought he would capture it; but while he was looking for a place to step, the turtle gravely turned around without his knowledge; and when he got in reaching distance, and bent down to take hold of what nature designed should be taken hold of while handling a snapping turtle, that sociable animal just reached out and took hold of Mr. Gilsey's hand with a grasp that left no doubt of its sincerity. The shrieks of the unfortunate man aroused some of the neighbors, but when they arrived it was to late to be of any benefit to him, or to themselves, for they just caught a glimpse of a bare-headed man tearing over the hill, swinging a small carpet-bag in one hand, and they at once concluded that it was a narrow escape from highway robbery. However, it was not a carpet-bag he was swinging; it was that turtle, and it clung to him until he reached White street bridge, when it let go; but the frightened man did not slacken his gait until he got home. When he reached the house, the ludicrousness of the affair burst upon him, and when his wife asked him what was the matter, he said, "Nothing was the matter, only he was afraid he would be too late for church," and appeared to be much relieved to find that he wasn't.—Danbury News.

Progress of Astronomy in the United States.

Mr. Richard A. Proctor, the distinguished British astronomer, bears the following testimony to the progress and results of astronomical science in this country:

"The American arrangements for extending government aid to astronomy seem to me to afford a model which might be copied with advantage on this side of the Atlantic. We see their physical observatories attached to other government establishments, to universities, and so on. Their professors of astronomy are not only real working astronomers, but skillful mathematicians (for the most part university men) and men of admirable zeal in the cause of science. I have been struck with the abundance, I had almost said the superabundance, of labor which has been bestowed on work, the record of which has recently reached me from America. Thus, in the mathematical investigations of the coming transits of Venus, a problem of difficulty has but to be suggested, to be at once attacked and solved to the utmost limits of exactness. The pictures of solar phenomena, spots, faculæ, and prominences. are the most striking and beautiful I have yet seen. Their lunar pictures are remarkable for artistic beauty, as well as scientific value, and, altogether, their work, as I have said, is a model for our astronomers."

KATHAIRON

Only 50 Cents per Bottle.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek, "KATHRO," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates Dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only Fifty Cents per Bottle.

CHAP. 314.

AN ACT to provide for submitting to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held on the Tuesday following the first Monday of November, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, the question whether the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, of justices of the supreme court, of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State, shall be hereafter filled by appointment, pursuant to section seventeen, article six, of the constitution.

Passed April 26, 1873; three fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The question whether the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, the justices of the supreme court, the judges of the superior court of the city of New York, of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the superior court of Buffalo, of the city court of Brooklyn, and the county judge of the several counties of this State, shall hereafter be filled by appointment, shall be submitted to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday of November next, as provided in section seventeen of article six of the constitution of this State, in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

§ 2. The inspectors of election in each election district in the State shall provide two boxes, in which they shall deposit the ballots of the electors upon the question whether the judges and justices of the several courts named in the first section of this act shall hereafter be filled by appointment. One of said boxes shall be labeled "appointment or election of the chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and of justices of the supreme court." The other one shall be labeled "appointment or election of judges of city and county courts." Each citizen entitled to vote at such election may vote two ballots, as follows: One of them shall be endorsed "appointment or election of the chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals, and of the justices of the supreme court," "and shall contain on the inside, when folded, the words, "shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals and of the justices of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment—Yes," or the words, "shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals and of the justices of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment—No;" and all such ballots shall be deposited in the boxes labeled "appointment or election of chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and justices of the supreme court." The other of said ballots shall be indorsed "appointment or election of judges of city and county courts," and on the inside, when folded, shall contain the words, "shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment—Yes," or the words, "shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city court of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment—No." And all such ballots shall be deposited in the box labeled "appointment or election of the judges of the city and county courts."

§ 3. The inspectors of election in each election district, after the closing of the polls of such election, shall count and canvass separately the ballots deposited in each of the said boxes in the manner prescribed by law in reference to other elections, and shall ascertain the whole number of ballots upon each of the questions to be submitted as aforesaid. The inspectors, after having so counted said ballots, shall set down in writing the whole number of such ballots upon each question, and the whole number for and against each of the said questions, and shall certify and make return of the said several votes in the same manner as prescribed by law in reference to other ballots at a general election.

§ 4. The votes so given shall be canvassed by the several boards of county canvassers at the next meeting thereof after such election, and the aggregate results in the several counties shall be canvassed and certified by the board of State canvassers. The existing laws in reference to a general election shall in all respects, so far as applicable, apply to and regulate the proceedings and duties of the said board of county and State canvassers, and of the county clerks and secretary of State. From the statements made to the board of State canvassers it shall determine whether a majority of the votes upon the questions submitted to the electors of the State, as herein provided, be in the affirmative or negative. The said board shall make a certificate of such determination and shall deliver the same to the secretary of State, who shall file the same in his office.

§ 5. If a majority of all the ballots indorsed "Appointment or election of chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and of justices of the supreme court" shall be in the affirmative, then the said officers shall not after said election be elective, but, as vacancies occur, they shall be filled by appointment by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, or if the senate be not in session, by the governor; but in such case he shall nominate to the senate when next convened and such appointment by the governor alone shall expire at the end of that session; but if the majority of said ballots so endorsed be in the negative, then the said officers shall be elective, as heretofore. If a majority of the ballots indorsed "Appointment or election of judges of city and county courts" shall contain on the inside the question as hereinbefore provided, answered in the affirmative, then the said officers mentioned in the said question shall not after said election be elective, but as vacancies occur they shall be filled by appointment by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, or if the senate be not in session, by the governor; but in such case he shall nominate to the senate, when next convened, and such appointment by the governor alone shall expire at the end of that session; but if a majority of the ballots so indorsed shall be answered in the negative, then the said officers shall be elected as heretofore.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of the secretary of State to cause the said questions, together with the forms of the ballots as herein specified, to be published in two or more newspapers in each of the counties of this state, the same number of times prior to the said election as is now required by law to be published of the officers to be elected and the offices to be filled at such election; such newspapers to be designated by the Secretary of State in the manner now provided by law for designating newspapers to publish election notices; but no neglect or failure to publish or informality of publication shall impair the validity of such election.

§ 7. Shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, and of justice of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment. 2d, Shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, the judge of the city court of Brooklyn, and the judge of the county courts of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment." And at such election each elector will be entitled to vote separately for or against each of said questions, and if a majority of the votes shall be in the affirmative of said questions, then the said judges and justices therein referred to, after said election, as vacancies occur, will be appointed by the governor, as provided by law. No failure or omission to give notice, or any informality in the notice or the giving thereof, shall impair the validity of such notice, or the election herein provided for.

BLOOD PURIFIER

JURUBEBA

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

This section shall not affect the validity of any existing statutes in relation to the offence of bribery.

§ 2. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe to an officer, if it shall be received, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and be liable to a punishment, except as herein provided. No person offering a bribe shall, upon any prosecution of the officer for receiving such bribe, be privileged from testifying in relation thereto, and he shall not be liable to civil or criminal prosecution therefor, if he shall testify to the giving or offering of such bribe. Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections three and six of article seven be amended as follows:

Section three to be amended by adding at the end of the section the following:

No extra compensation shall be made to any contractor; but if from any unforeseen cause, the terms of any contract shall prove to be unjust and oppressive, the canal board may, upon the application of the contractor, cancel such contract.

§ 6. Hereafter the expenditure for collections, superintendence, ordinary and extraordinary repairs on the canals named in this section shall not exceed, in any year, their gross receipts for the previous year. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied in payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are pledged.

That the following be added as sections thirteen and fourteen, in place of sections thirteen and fourteen of this article, which have been transferred and inserted as sections twenty-one and twenty-two of article three.

§ 13. The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the state, shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

§ 14. Neither the legislature, canal board, canal appraisers, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the state, shall audit, allow or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. The limitation of existing claims shall begin to run from the adoption of this section; but this provision shall not be construed to revive claims already barred by existing statutes, nor to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

The legislature, at its first session after the return of every enumeration, shall apportion the members of assembly among the several counties of the state, in manner aforesaid, and the board of supervisors in such counties as may be entitled under such apportionment to more than one member, except the city and county of New York, and in said city and county the board of aldermen of said city shall assemble at such times as the legislature making such apportionment shall prescribe and divide their respective counties into assembly districts, each of which districts shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory equal to the number of members of assembly to which such counties shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and the clerks of their respective counties a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and the population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration, as near as can be ascertained, and the apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made as herein provided. No town shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of the assembly, and no new county shall be hereafter erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, be entitled to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties. Nothing in this section shall prevent division at any time of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns and counties by the legislature.

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 7. No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governor and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void.

§ 8. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who at the time of his election is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress or appointed to any office, civil or military under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

And that the following additional sections be added to said article three of the constitution:

§ 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

§ 18. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.

Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.

Locating or changing county seats.

Providing for changing of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Incorporating villages.

Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or impanneling grand or petit jurors.

Regulating the interest on money.

The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.

Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson river below Waterford, and on the East river, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or, in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained, the general term of the supreme court in the district in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners, who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

§ 20. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

§ 21. On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the state, the question shall be taken for yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall in all such cases be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

§ 22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such a manner, and for such period, as is or may be provided by law. In any such cities the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the common council or board of aldermen thereof.

Section seventeen of said article is hereby made section twenty-three of the proposed amendment, and is amended so as to read as follows:

§ 23. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time deem expedient.

§ 24. The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

§ 25. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article five of the constitution.

Resolved, (If the assembly concur.) That article five of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§1. The comptroller and secretary of state shall be chosen at the same general election, and for the same term as the governor. The persons holding the offices at the time when this section shall take effect shall continue to hold the same until the first day of January next succeeding the first election of comptroller and secretary of state, pursuant to the provisions hereof, and shall each receive a salary to be fixed by law for such time as they may hold such offices beyond the term for which they shall have been elected.

§ 2. The attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold their offices until the end of the term of the governor by whom they shall be nominated, and until their successors are appointed. No person shall be appointed state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical engineer.

§ 3. A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties, as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of the state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The comptroller shall appoint the clerks of the prisons. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which have heretofore been had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons; and from and after the time when such superintendent of state prisons shall have been appointed and qualified, the office of inspector of state prisons shall be and is hereby abolished. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense.

§ 4. The treasurer shall be chosen by the senate and assembly in joint ballot, and hold his office for three years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give such security as may be required by law. He may be suspended from office by the governor during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer, has, in any particular, violated his duty. The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

§ 5. The lieutenant governor, comptroller, secretary of state, attorney-general, treasurer and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The office of the commissioner of the canal fund is abolished, and all the powers and duties heretofore had and performed by the commissioners of the canal fund shall hereafter be had or performed by the comptroller. The canal board shall consist of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor, and superintendent of public works.

§ 6. A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and to hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated and until his successor is appointed. He shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office, before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals; and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor. Subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require; but in case of removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof, to the legislature at its next session.

§ 7. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled, for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him.

§ 8. The office of canal commissioner is abolished from and after the appointment and qualification of the superintendent of public works, until which time the canal commissioners shall continue to discharge their duties as now provided by law. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the canal commissioners, and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature.

§ 9. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies, in the offices in this article named except as herein otherwise provided; or, if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions, which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

§ 10. The attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor and treasurer, in office at the time this article shall take effect, shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

§ 11. The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article named, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

§ 12. All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished, and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interest of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article four of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one, two, four, eight and nine of article four of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor who shall hold his office for three years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office during the term for which they were elected.

§ 2. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years, next preceding his election, a resident of this state.

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature (or the senant only) on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to them as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty and service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 9. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriations of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur). That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

To its Natural Vitality and Color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty.—Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

Handling a Snapping Turtle by the Wrong End.

A man named Gilsey, who by strict economy and severe industry, has succeeded in getting his family a little place, free of incumbrance, was fishing in Still river near the Beaver Brook mills, on Sunday afternoon. After sitting on the bank for a couple of hours, without catching anything, he was gratified to see, on a flat stone in the water, a snapping turtle sunning itself. The but-end of the turtle was toward him, and he thought he would capture it; but while he was looking for a place to step, the turtle gravely turned around without his knowledge; and when he got in reaching distance, and bent down to take hold of what nature designed should be taken hold of while handling a snapping turtle, that sociable animal just reached out and took hold of Mr. Gilsey's hand with a grasp that left no doubt of its sincerity. The shrieks of the unfortunate man aroused some of the neighbors, but when they arrived it was to late to be of any benefit to him, or to themselves, for they just caught a glimpse of a bare-headed man tearing over the hill, swinging a small carpet-bag in one hand, and they at once concluded that it was a narrow escape from highway robbery. However, it was not a carpet-bag he was swinging; it was that turtle, and it clung to him until he reached White street bridge, when it let go; but the frightened man did not slacken his gait until he got home. When he reached the house, the ludicrousness of the affair burst upon him, and when his wife asked him what was the matter, he said, "Nothing was the matter, only he was afraid he would be too late for church," and appeared to be much relieved to find that he wasn't.—Danbury News.

Progress of Astronomy in the United States.

Mr. Richard A. Proctor, the distinguished British astronomer, bears the following testimony to the progress and results of astronomical science in this country:

"The American arrangements for extending government aid to astronomy seem to me to afford a model which might be copied with advantage on this side of the Atlantic. We see their physical observatories attached to other government establishments, to universities, and so on. Their professors of astronomy are not only real working astronomers, but skillful mathematicians (for the most part university men) and men of admirable zeal in the cause of science. I have been struck with the abundance, I had almost said the superabundance, of labor which has been bestowed on work, the record of which has recently reached me from America. Thus, in the mathematical investigations of the coming transits of Venus, a problem of difficulty has but to be suggested, to be at once attacked and solved to the utmost limits of exactness. The pictures of solar phenomena, spots, faculæ, and prominences, are the most striking and beautiful I have yet seen. Their lunar pictures are remarkable for artistic beauty, as well as scientific value, and, altogether, their work, as I have said, is a model for our astronomers."

KATHAIRON

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek, "KATHRO," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates Dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only Fifty Cents per Bottle.

CHAP. 314.

AN ACT to provide for submitting to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held on the Tuesday following the first Monday of November, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, the question whether the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, of justices of the supreme court, of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State, shall be hereafter filled by appointment, pursuant to section seventeen, article six, of the constitution.

Passed April 26, 1873; three fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The question whether the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, the justices of the supreme court, the judges of the superior court of the city of New York, of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the superior court of Buffalo, of the city court of Brooklyn, and the county judge of the several counties of this State, shall hereafter be filled by appointment, shall be submitted to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday of November next, as provided in section seventeen of article six of the constitution of this State, in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

§ 2. The inspectors of election in each election district in the State shall provide two boxes, in which they shall deposit the ballots of the electors upon the question whether the judges and justices of the several courts named in the first section of this act shall hereafter be filled by appointment. One of said boxes shall be labeled "appointment or election of the chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and of justices of the supreme court." The other one shall be labeled "appointment or election of judges of city and county courts." Each citizen entitled to vote at such election may vote two ballots, as follows: One of them shall be endorsed "appointment or election of the chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals, and of the justices of the supreme court," "and shall contain on the inside, when folded, the words, 'shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals and of the justices of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment—Yes," or the words, "shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals and of the justices of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment—No;" and all such ballots shall be deposited in the boxes labeled "appointment or election of chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and justices of the supreme court." The other of said ballots shall be indorsed "appointment or election of judges of city and county courts," and on the inside, when folded, shall contain the words, "shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment—Yes," or the words, "shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city court of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment—No." And all such ballots shall be deposited in the box labeled "appointment or election of the judges of the city and county courts."

§ 3. The inspectors of election in each election district, after the closing of the polls of such election, shall count and canvass separately the ballots deposited in each of the said boxes in the manner prescribed by law in reference to other elections, and shall ascertain the whole number of ballots upon each of the questions to be submitted as aforesaid. The inspectors, after having so counted said ballots, shall set down in writing the whole number of such ballots upon each question, and the whole number for and against each of the said questions, and shall certify and make return of the said several votes in the same manner as prescribed by law in reference to other ballots at a general election.

§ 4. The votes so given shall be canvassed by the several boards of county canvassers at the next meeting thereof after such election, and the aggregate results in the several counties shall be canvassed and certified by the board of State canvassers. The existing laws in reference to a general election shall in all respects, so far as applicable, apply to and regulate the proceedings and duties of the said board of county and State canvassers, and of the county clerks and secretary of State. From the statements made to the board of State canvassers it shall determine whether a majority of the votes upon the questions submitted to the electors of the State, as herein provided, be in the affirmative or negative. The said board shall make a certificate of such determination and shall deliver the same to the secretary of State, who shall file the same in his office.

§ 5. If a majority of all the ballots indorsed "Appointment or election of chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and of justices of the supreme court" shall be in the affirmative, then the said officers shall not after said election be elective, but, as vacancies occur, they shall be filled by appointment by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, or if the senate be not in session, by the governor; but in such case he shall nominate to the senate when next convened and such appointment by the governor alone shall expire at the end of that session; but if the majority of said ballots so endorsed be in the negative, then the said officers shall be elective, as heretofore. If a majority of the ballots indorsed "Appointment or election of judges of city and county courts" shall contain on the inside the question as hereinbefore provided, answered in the affirmative, then the said officers mentioned in the said question shall not after said election be elective, but as vacancies occur they shall be filled by appointment by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, or if the senate be not in session, by the governor; but in such case he shall nominate to the senate, when next convened, and such appointment by the governor alone shall expire at the end of that session; but if a majority of the ballots so indorsed shall be answered in the negative, then the said officers shall be elected as heretofore.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of the secretary of State to cause the said questions, together with the forms of the ballots as herein specified, to be published in two or more newspapers in each of the counties of this state, the same number of times prior to the said election as is now required by law to be published of the officers to be elected and the offices to be filled at such election; such newspapers to be designated by the Secretary of State in the manner now provided by law for designating newspapers to publish election notices; but no neglect or failure to publish or informality of publication shall impair the validity of such election.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of the secretary of State to include in and cause to be published with the election notices for the said general election, a notice in substance and effect as follows: "Pursuant to section seventeen of article six of the constitution of this State, two questions will be submitted to the electors of this State, to be voted upon separate ballots, as follows: 1st. Shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, and of justice of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment. 2d, Shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, the judge of the city court of Brooklyn, and the judge of the county courts of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment." And at such election each elector will be entitled to vote separately for or against each of said questions, and if a majority of the votes shall be in the affirmative of said questions, then the said judges and justices therein referred to, after said election, as vacancies occur, will be appointed by the governor, as provided by law. No failure or omission to give notice, or any informality in the notice or the giving thereof, shall impair the validity of such notice, or the election herein provided for.

§ 8. This act shall take effect immediately.

Yours Respectfully,
G. HILTON SCRIBNER,
Secretary of State.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
BLOOD PURIFIER
JURUBEBA

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

§ 4. The legislature shall, by general law, conform all charters of savings banks, or institutions for savings, to a uniformity of powers, rights and liabilities, and all charters hereafter granted for such corporations shall be made to conform to such general law, and to such amendments as may be made thereto. And no such corporation shall have any capital stock, or shall be trustees thereof, or any of them have any interest whatever, direct or indirect, in the profits of such corporation; and no director or trustee of any such bank or institution shall be interested in any loan or use of money or property of such bank or institution for savings. The legislature shall have no power to pass any act granting any special charter for banking purposes; but corporations or associations may be formed for such purposes under general laws.

Nor shall it apply to any fund or property now held or which may hereafter be held by the state for educational purposes.

§ 11. No county, city, town, or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit, to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become, directly or indirectly, the owner of stock in or bonds of any association or corporation, nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness, except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provisions for the aid or support of its poor, as may be authorized by law.

Any person holding office under the laws of this state, who, except in payment of his legal salary, fees or perquisites, shall receive or consent to receive, directly or indirectly, anything of value or of personal advantage, or the promise thereof, for performing or omitting to perform any official act, or with the express or implied understanding that his official act or omission to act is to be in any degree influenced thereby, shall be deemed guilty of a felony. This section shall not affect the validity of any existing statutes in relation to the offence of bribery.

§ 2. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe to an officer, if it shall be received, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and be liable to a punishment, except as herein provided. No person offering a bribe shall, upon any prosecution of the officer for receiving such bribe, be privileged from testifying in relation thereto, and he shall not be liable to civil or criminal prosecution therefor, if he shall testify to the giving or offering of such bribe. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe, if it be rejected by the officer to whom it is tendered, shall be deemed guilty of an attempt to bribe, which is hereby declared to be a felony.

§ 3. Any person charged with receiving a bribe, or with offering or promising a bribe, shall be permitted to testify in his own behalf in any civil or criminal prosecution therefor.

§ 4. Any district attorney who shall fail faithfully to prosecute a person charged with the violation in his county of any provision of this article which may come to his knowledge, shall be removed from office by the governor, after due notice and an opportunity of being heard in his defence. The expenses which shall be incurred by any county in investigating and proving any charge of bribery, or attempting to bribe any person holding office under the laws of this state, within such county, or of receiving bribes by any such person in said county, shall be a charge against the state, and their payment by the state shall be provided for by law.

ARTICLE XVI.

SECTION 1. All amendments to the constitution shall be in force from and including the first day of January succeeding the election at which the same were adopted, except when otherwise provided by such amendments.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections three and six of article seven be amended as follows:

Section three to be amended by adding at the end of the section the following:

No extra compensation shall be made to any contractor; but if from any unforeseen cause, the terms of any contract shall prove to be unjust and oppressive, the canal board may, upon the application of the contractor, cancel such contract.

§ 6. The legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal, the Champlain canal, the Black River canal, or the Cayuga and Seneca canal; but they shall remain the property of the state and under its management forever. Hereafter the expenditure for collections, superintendence, ordinary and extraordinary repairs on the canals named in this section shall not exceed, in any year, their gross receipts for the previous year. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied in payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are pledged.

That the following be added as sections thirteen and fourteen, in place of sections thirteen and fourteen of this article, which have been transferred and inserted as sections twenty-one and twenty-two of article three.

§ 13. The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the state, shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

§ 14. Neither the legislature, canal board, canal appraisers, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the state, shall audit, allow or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. The limitation of existing claims shall begin to run from the adoption of this section; but this provision shall not be construed to revive claims already barred by existing statutes, nor to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a citizen for ten days, and an inhabitant of the state one year next preceding any election, and for the last four months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not elsewhere, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to a vote of the people, provided that, in time of war, no elector in the actual military service of the state, or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from any election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside.

§ 2. No person who shall receive, expect or offer to receive, or pay, offer or promise to pay, contribute, offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation for the giving or withholding a vote at an election, or who shall make any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote, or who shall make or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager, depending upon the result of any election, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for such cause, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or offered, does not expect to receive, has not paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing, as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at such election, and has not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote, nor made or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of such election. CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article three of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections one, four, five, six, seven and eight of article three of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a senate and assembly.

§ 4. An enumeration of the inhabitants of the state shall be made under the direction of the legislature, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and in every tenth year thereafter.

§ 5. The assembly shall consist of one hundred and twenty-eight members elected for one year. The members of assembly shall be apportioned among the several counties of the state, by the legislature, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens, and shall be chosen by single districts. The assembly districts shall remain as at present organized until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five. The legislature, at its first session after the return of every enumeration, shall apportion the members of assembly among the several counties of the state, in manner aforesaid, and the board of supervisors in such counties as may be entitled under such apportionment to more than one member, except the city and county of New York, and in said city and county the board of aldermen of said city shall assemble at such times as the legislature making such apportionment shall prescribe and divide their respective counties into assembly districts, each of which districts shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory equal to the number of members of assembly to which such counties shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and the clerks of their respective counties a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and the population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration, as near as can be ascertained, and the apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made as herein provided. No town shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of the assembly, and no new county shall be hereafter erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, be entitled to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties. Nothing in this section shall prevent division at any time of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns and counties by the legislature.

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 7. No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governor and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void.

§ 8. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who at the time of his election is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress or appointed to any office, civil or military under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

And that the following additional sections be added to said article three of the constitution:

§ 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

§ 18. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.

Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.

Locating or changing county seats.

Providing for changing of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Incorporating villages.

Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or impanneling grand or petit jurors.

Regulating the interest on money.

The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.

Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson river below Waterford, and on the East river, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or, in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained, the general term of the supreme court in the district in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners, who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

§ 20. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

§ 21. On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the state, the question shall be taken for yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall in all such cases be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

§ 22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such a manner, and for such period, as is or may be provided by law. In any such cities the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the common council or board of aldermen thereof.

Section seventeen of said article is hereby made section twenty-three of the proposed amendment, and is amended so as to read as follows:

§ 23. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time deem expedient.

§ 24. The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

§ 25. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article five of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur.) That article five of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 1. The comptroller and secretary of state shall be chosen at the same general election, and for the same term as the governor. The persons holding the offices at the time when this section shall take effect shall continue to hold the same until the first day of January next succeeding the first election of comptroller and secretary of state, pursuant to the provisions hereof, and shall each receive a salary to be fixed by law for such time as they may hold such offices beyond the term for which they shall have been elected.

§ 2. The attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold their offices until the end of the term of the governor by whom they shall be nominated, and until their successors are appointed. No person shall be appointed state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical engineer.

§ 3. A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties, as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of the state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The comptroller shall appoint the clerks of the prisons. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which have heretofore been had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons; and from and after the time when such superintendent of state prisons shall have been appointed and qualified, the office of inspector of state prisons shall be and is hereby abolished. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense.

§ 4. The treasurer shall be chosen by the senate and assembly in joint ballot, and hold his office for three years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give such security as may be required by law. He may be suspended from office by the governor during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer, has, in any particular, violated his duty. The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

§ 5. The lieutenant governor, comptroller, secretary of state, attorney-general, treasurer and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The office of the commissioner of the canal fund is abolished, and all the powers and duties heretofore had and performed by the commissioners of the canal fund shall hereafter be had or performed by the comptroller. The canal board shall consist of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor, and superintendent of public works.

§ 6. A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and to hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated and until his successor is appointed. He shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office, before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals; and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor. Subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require; but in case of removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof, to the legislature at its next session.

§ 7. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled, for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him.

§ 8. The office of canal commissioner is abolished from and after the appointment and qualification of the superintendent of public works, until which time the canal commissioners shall continue to discharge their duties as now provided by law. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the canal commissioners, and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature.

§ 9. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies, in the offices in this article named except as herein otherwise provided; or, if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions, which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

§ 10. The attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor and treasurer, in office at the time this article shall take effect, shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

§ 11. The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article named, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

§ 12. All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished, and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interest of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article four of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one, two, four, eight and nine of article four of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor who shall hold his office for three years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office during the term for which they were elected.

§ 2. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years, next preceding his election, a resident of this state.

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature (or the senate only) on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to them as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty and service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 9. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriations of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
To its Natural Vitality and Color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray it stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty.—Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

Handling a Snapping Turtle by the Wrong End.

A man named Gilsey, who by strict economy and severe industry, has succeeded in getting his family a little place, free of incumbrance, was fishing in Still river near the Beaver Brook mills, on Sunday afternoon. After sitting on the bank for a couple of hours, without catching anything, he was gratified to see, on a flat stone in the water, a snapping turtle sunning itself. The but-end of the turtle was toward him, and he thought he would capture it; but while he was looking for a place to step, the turtle gravely turned around without his knowledge; and when he got in reaching distance, and bent down to take hold of what nature designed should be taken hold of while handling a snapping turtle, that sociable animal just reached out and took hold of Mr. Gilsey's hand with a grasp that left no doubt of its sincerity. The shrieks of the unfortunate man aroused some of the neighbors, but when they arrived it was to late to be of any benefit to him, or to themselves, for they just caught a glimpse of a bare-headed man tearing over the hill, swinging a small carpet-bag in one hand, and they at once concluded that it was a narrow escape from highway robbery. However, it was not a carpet-bag he was swinging; it was that turtle, and it clung to him until he reached White street bridge, when it let go; but the frightened man did not slacken his gait until he got home. When he reached the house, the ludicrousness of the affair burst upon him, and when his wife asked him what was the matter, he said, "Nothing was the matter, only he was afraid he would be too late for church," and appeared to be much relieved to find that he wasn't.—Danbury News.

Progress of Astronomy in the United States.

Mr. Richard A. Proctor, the distinguished British astronomer, bears the following testimony to the progress and results of astronomical science in this country:

"The American arrangements for extending government aid to astronomy seem to me to afford a model which might be copied with advantage on this side of the Atlantic. We see their physical observatories attached to other government establishments, to universities, and so on. Their professors of astronomy are not only real working astronomers, but skillful mathematicians (for the most part university men) and men of admirable zeal in the cause of science. I have been struck with the abundance, I had almost said the superabundance, of labor which has been bestowed on work, the record of which has recently reached me from America. Thus, in the mathematical investigations of the coming transits of Venus, a problem of difficulty has but to be suggested, to be at once attacked and solved to the utmost limits of exactness. The pictures of solar phenomena, spots, faculæ, and prominences, are the most striking and beautiful I have yet seen. Their lunar pictures are remarkable for artistic beauty, as well as scientific value, and, altogether, their work, as I have said, is a model for our astronomers."

Only 50 Cents per Bottle.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek, "KATHRO," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates Dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only Fifty Cents per Bottle.

Passed April 26, 1873; three fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The question whether the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, the justices of the supreme court, the judges of the superior court of the city of New York, of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the superior court of Buffalo, of the city court of Brooklyn, and the county judge of the several counties of this State, shall hereafter be filled by appointment, shall be submitted to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday of November next, as provided in section seventeen of article six of the constitution of this State, in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

§ 2. The inspectors of election in each election district in the State shall provide two boxes, in which they shall deposit the ballots of the electors upon the question whether the judges and justices of the several courts named in the first section of this act shall hereafter be filled by appointment. One of said boxes shall be labeled "appointment or election of the chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and of justices of the supreme court." The other one shall be labeled "appointment or election of judges of city and county courts." Each citizen entitled to vote at such election may vote two ballots, as follows: One of them shall be endorsed "appointment or election of the chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals, and of the justices of the supreme court," "and shall contain on the inside, when folded, the words, "shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals and of the justices of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment—Yes," or the words, "shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals and of the justices of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment—No;" and all such ballots shall be deposited in the boxes labeled "appointment or election of chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and justices of the supreme court." The other of said ballots shall be indorsed "appointment or election of judges of city and county courts," and on the inside, when folded, shall contain the words, "shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment—Yes," or the words, "shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city court of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment—No." And all such ballots shall be deposited in the box labeled "appointment or election of the judges of the city and county courts."

§ 3. The inspectors of election in each election district, after the closing of the polls of such election, shall count and canvass separately the ballots deposited in each of the said boxes in the manner prescribed by law in reference to other elections, and shall ascertain the whole number of ballots upon each of the questions to be submitted as aforesaid. The inspectors, after having so counted said ballots, shall set down in writing the whole number of such ballots upon each question, and the whole number for and against each of the said questions, and shall certify and make return of the said several votes in the same manner as prescribed by law in reference to other ballots at a general election.

§ 4. The votes so given shall be canvassed by the several boards of county canvassers at the next meeting thereof after such election, and the aggregate results in the several counties shall be canvassed and certified by the board of State canvassers. The existing laws in reference to a general election shall in all respects, so far as applicable, apply to and regulate the proceedings and duties of the said board of county and State canvassers, and of the county clerks and secretary of State. From the statements made to the board of State canvassers it shall determine whether a majority of the votes upon the questions submitted to the electors of the State, as herein provided, be in the affirmative or negative. The said board shall make a certificate of such determination and shall deliver the same to the secretary of State, who shall file the same in his office.

§ 5. If a majority of all the ballots indorsed "Appointment or election of chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and of justices of the supreme court" shall be in the affirmative, then the said officers shall not after said election be elective, but, as vacancies occur, they shall be filled by appointment by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, or if the senate be not in session, by the governor; but in such case he shall nominate to the senate when next convened and such appointment by the governor alone shall expire at the end of that session; but if the majority of said ballots so endorsed be in the negative, then the said officers shall be elective, as heretofore. If a majority of the ballots indorsed "Appointment or election of judges of city and county courts" shall contain on the inside the question as hereinbefore provided, answered in the affirmative, then the said officers mentioned in the said question shall not after said election be elective, but as vacancies occur they shall be filled by appointment by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, or if the senate be not in session, by the governor; but in such case he shall nominate to the senate, when next convened, and such appointment by the governor alone shall expire at the end of that session; but if a majority of the ballots so indorsed shall be answered in the negative, then the said officers shall be elected as heretofore.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of the secretary of State to cause the said questions, together with the forms of the ballots as herein specified, to be published in two or more newspapers in each of the counties of this state, the same number of times prior to the said election as is now required by law to be published of the officers to be elected and the offices to be filled at such election; such newspapers to be designated by the Secretary of State in the manner now provided by law for designating newspapers to publish election notices; but no neglect or failure to publish or informality of publication shall impair the validity of such election.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of the secretary of State to include in and cause to be published with the election notices for the said general election, a notice in substance and effect as follows: "Pursuant to section seventeen of article six of the constitution of this State, two questions will be submitted to the electors of this State, to be voted upon separate ballots, as follows: 1st. Shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, and of justice of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment. 2d, Shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, the judge of the city court of Brooklyn, and the judge of the county courts of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment." And at such election each elector will be entitled to vote separately for or against each of said questions, and if a majority of the votes shall be in the affirmative of said questions, then the said judges and justices therein referred to, after said election, as vacancies occur, will be appointed by the governor, as provided by law. No failure or omission to give notice, or any informality in the notice or the giving thereof, shall impair the validity of such notice, or the election herein provided for.

Yours Respectfully,
G. HILTON SCRIBNER,
Secretary of State.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
BLOOD PURIFIER
JURUBEBA

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative powers.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

This section shall not affect the validity of any existing statutes in relation to the offence of bribery.

§ 2. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe to an officer, if it shall be received, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and be liable to a punishment, except as herein provided. No person offering a bribe shall, upon any prosecution of the officer for receiving such bribe, be privileged from testifying in relation thereto, and he shall not be liable to civil or criminal prosecution therefor, if he shall testify to the giving or offering of such bribe. Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections three and six of article seven be amended as follows:

Section three to be amended by adding at the end of the section the following:

No extra compensation shall be made to any contractor; but if from any unforeseen cause, the terms of any contract shall prove to be unjust and oppressive, the canal board may, upon the application of the contractor, cancel such contract.

§ 6. The legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal, the Champlain canal, the Black River canal, or the Cayuga and Seneca canal; but they shall remain the property of the state and under its management forever. Hereafter the expenditure for collections, superintendence, ordinary and extraordinary repairs on the canals named in this section shall not exceed, in any year, their gross receipts for the previous year. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied in payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are pledged.

That the following be added as sections thirteen and fourteen, in place of sections thirteen and fourteen of this article, which have been transferred and inserted as sections twenty-one and twenty-two of article three.

§ 13. The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the state, shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

§ 14. Neither the legislature, canal board, canal appraisers, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the state, shall audit, allow or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. The limitation of existing claims shall begin to run from the adoption of this section; but this provision shall not be construed to revive claims already barred by existing statutes, nor to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article three of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections one, four, five, six, seven and eight of article three of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a senate and assembly.

§ 4. An enumeration of the inhabitants of the state shall be made under the direction of the legislature, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and in every tenth year thereafter.

§ 5. The assembly shall consist of one hundred and twenty-eight members elected for one year. The members of assembly shall be apportioned among the several counties of the state, by the legislature, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens, and shall be chosen by single districts. The assembly districts shall remain as at present organized until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five. The legislature, at its first session after the return of every enumeration, shall apportion the members of assembly among the several counties of the state, in manner aforesaid, and the board of supervisors in such counties as may be entitled under such apportionment to more than one member, except the city and county of New York, and in said city and county the board of aldermen of said city shall assemble at such times as the legislature making such apportionment shall prescribe and divide their respective counties into assembly districts, each of which districts shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory equal to the number of members of assembly to which such counties shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and the clerks of their respective counties a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and the population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration, as near as can be ascertained, and the apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made as herein provided. No town shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of the assembly, and no new county shall be hereafter erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, be entitled to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties. Nothing in this section shall prevent division at any time of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns and counties by the legislature.

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 7. No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governor and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void.

§ 8. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who at the time of his election is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress or appointed to any office, civil or military under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

And that the following additional sections be added to said article three of the constitution:

§ 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

§ 18. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.

Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.

Locating or changing county seats.

Providing for changing of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Incorporating villages.

Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or impanneling grand or petit jurors.

Regulating the interest on money.

The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.

Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson river below Waterford, and on the East river, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or, in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained, the general term of the supreme court in the district in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners, who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

§ 20. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

§ 21. On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the state, the question shall be taken for yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall in all such cases be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

§ 22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such a manner, and for such period, as is or may be provided by law. In any such cities the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the common council or board of aldermen thereof.

Section seventeen of said article is hereby made section twenty-three of the proposed amendment, and is amended so as to read as follows:

§ 23. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time deem expedient.

§ 24. The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

§ 25. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article five of the constitution.

Resolved, (If the assembly concur.) That article five of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§1. The comptroller and secretary of state shall be chosen at the same general election, and for the same term as the governor. The persons holding the offices at the time when this section shall take effect shall continue to hold the same until the first day of January next succeeding the first election of comptroller and secretary of state, pursuant to the provisions hereof, and shall each receive a salary to be fixed by law for such time as they may hold such offices beyond the term for which they shall have been elected.

§ 2. The attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold their offices until the end of the term of the governor by whom they shall be nominated, and until their successors are appointed. No person shall be appointed state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical engineer.

§ 3. A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties, as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of the state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The comptroller shall appoint the clerks of the prisons. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which have heretofore been had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons; and from and after the time when such superintendent of state prisons shall have been appointed and qualified, the office of inspector of state prisons shall be and is hereby abolished. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense.

§ 4. The treasurer shall be chosen by the senate and assembly in joint ballot, and hold his office for three years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give such security as may be required by law. He may be suspended from office by the governor during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer, has, in any particular, violated his duty. The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

§ 5. The lieutenant governor, comptroller, secretary of state, attorney-general, treasurer and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The office of the commissioner of the canal fund is abolished, and all the powers and duties heretofore had and performed by the commissioners of the canal fund shall hereafter be had or performed by the comptroller. The canal board shall consist of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor, and superintendent of public works.

§ 6. A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and to hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated and until his successor is appointed. He shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office, before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals; and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor. Subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require; but in case of removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof, to the legislature at its next session.

§ 7. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled, for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him.

§ 8. The office of canal commissioner is abolished from and after the appointment and qualification of the superintendent of public works, until which time the canal commissioners shall continue to discharge their duties as now provided by law. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the canal commissioners, and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature.

§ 9. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies in the offices in this article named except as herein otherwise provided; or, if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions, which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

§ 10. The attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor and treasurer, in office at the time this article shall take effect, shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

§ 11. The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article named, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

§ 12. All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished, and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interest of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article four of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one, two, four, eight and nine of article four of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor who shall hold his office for three years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office during the term for which they were elected.

§ 2. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years, next preceding his election, a resident of this state.

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature (or the senate only) on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to them as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty and service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 9. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriations of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur). That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
To its Natural Vitality and Color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray it stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty.—Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
